The Savage Cell

Cancer Can Be Defeated, But Not By Lone Doctor

(Editor's Note: The war on cancer — and what you yourself can do about it — are the subjects of the articles in this series condensed from the widely acclaimed but controversial new book, "The Savage Cell." The author has studied the matter first hand for 17 years as science editor of the American Cancer Society and here presents the facts and his personal views.)

By PAT McGRADY
(First of a series)

In the seven minutes it takes to read this article, cancer will profoundly affect 12 Americans:

Four will have died;

Six will be told they have cancer;

Two will have survived the disease for five years — possibly cured.

Of the four who will have died of cancer, perhaps two could have been cured by good medical practices. They delayed too long in taking their symptoms to the doctor — or they went to the wrong doctor.

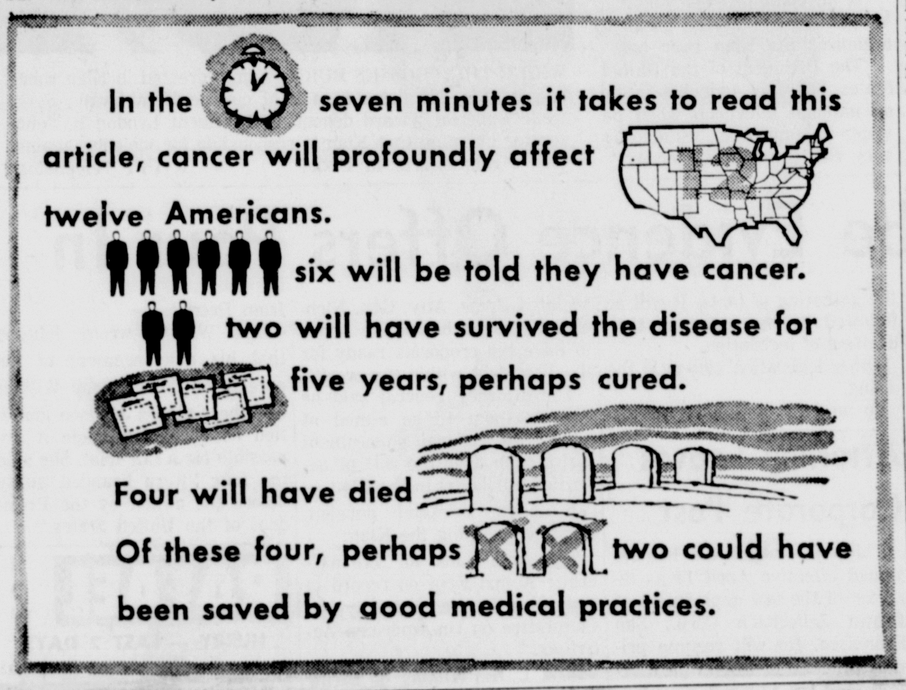

Cancer — any kind of cancer — requires the best that medicine has to offer. It calls for help from a team of specialists, composed basically of a pathologist, a surgeon, a radiologist and an internist or family-type doctor, each skilled in the management of cancer and all working closely together.

The average doctor — even the average good doctor — usually is not the man to diagnose and treat cancer. He can cure some cancers. But he also may sacrifice more lives to the disease than he saves; he does this inadvertently by deadly delays in diagnosis, by treating the wrong disease or by inadequate treatment for the right disease.

In contrast, there exist in the United States research and treatment centers which are among the best in the world.

For 17 years, this writer has had the enormous privilege of knowing many of the brilliant

Ranch Hand Dies As Car Leaves Road

Offered Ride From Novato Bar; Woman Injured

(See photo, page 4)

On the way home the car crashed into a bridge abutement and overturned. It threw Bettencourt out, killing him.

Driver DeNelson A. Durr, 41, of 25 Gertrude Lane, Novato, told California Highway Patrolmen the steering wheel failed to function. Durr escaped without injury.

Bettencourt's death was the seventh in Marin County traffic this year. Eleven had been killed in traffic in the county by this date last year.

DRIVING WEST

Durr, a 10-year veteran of the San Francisco police force assigned to Northern station, was driving west on Novato Boulevard, a miles west of the city, when the car left the road about 3 a.m., the highway patrol reported. It went through 40 feet of barbed wire fencing, hit a bridge abutment and rolled 15 feet downward into a creek bed.

Bettencourt was dead when highway patrolmen arrived.

Durr had offered Bettencourt a ride to his home from Karl's Klub at 877 Grant Avenue, Novato, he told highway patrolmen. He stopped at his home and let off his wife and daughter. The car "died" a short distance from his home and Durr returned home for another car. Another resident of the house, Audrey Nelson, 21, accompanied him.

TWO THROWN OUT

But the steering went out on the second vehicle, sending it into the crash, which threw out Bettencourt and Miss Nelson, Durr said.

Miss Nelson went for aid and found a highway patrolman a short distance away. She was in good condition today at Novato General Hospital with bruises over much of her body.

Bettencourt had worked for about a year as a milker on the James Grossi ranch, 4025 Novato Boulevard, where he resided. He had worked for many years on ranches in the northwest Marin and Petaluma areas.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Chapel of Marin Funeral Home, Novato.

Cafe Owner Sees Safe Battered—Youth Held

Companion Runs Out, Loot Is Recovered

Sheriff's officers nabbed an 18-year-old youth as he ran from Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon early today after the proprietor was awakened by the noise of breaking open an "'uncrackable" safe.

His companion dived into the bay with a bag full of loot and made good his escape. But he dropped the bag in the water and a diver summoned by sheriff's officers recovered it later.

In it was $1,500 in currency and coins, plus $94 in decipherable checks, sheriff's officers reported.

Lodged in the county jail was Thomas Jerome Grinner Jr., of 3 Kappas Yacht Harbor, Sausalito.

Sought as the confederate who escaped by water was Ira Lewis Edwards, also 18, of 135 Drake Avenue, Marin City. A warrant was issued charging him with burglary.

About 3 a.m., James L. Bigelow, 49, the cafe owner, awoks in his apartment over the cafe at 27 Main Street to hear the noise of steady pounding from below.

He glanced at the window to see if the pier lights from the cafe were reflected there—as they are the last lights turned off after the cafe closses at 1:45 a.m. There was no reflection of the lights.

Convinced that a burglary was under way, Bigelow crept cautiously down stairs. He opened a door to the cafe to see a man pounding at the 24-by-28 inch strong box in a hallway connecting the office to the restaurant and bar.

Bigelow retreated quietly back up the stairs and called officers.

NOT A HERO

"I was convinced it was no time to play hero," he related. "I performed the role of a good citizen by calling the sheriff's office."

Three sheriff's units were in the area. They converged on the scene within minutes.

Deputy Gary J. Bartolotti, first to arrive, saw two youths hurrying along a narrow catwalk behind the cafe. One carried a long pry bay; the other, a white laundry bag.

OTHER JUMPS

Grinner—the youth with the pry bar — stopped. The other jumped into the bay, the laundry bag still in his hands.

As other officers arrived, they pressed the search for the second suspect, but he had vanished beneath the docks. Bartolotti, however, said he believed the youth dropped the laundry bag.

The officers summoned diver Gary N. Williams, 29, of 43 Robinhood Drive, San Rafael, to dive for the loot.

He didn't have to dive, as it turned out. He waded in and found the bag beneath four feet of water.

In it were the cash, checks

Nature Lover, Bagley Clash On Marincello Scenic Loss

By WAT TAKESHITA

A quiet Sierra Club inspection tour of the proposed Marincello development erupted into an open clash yesterday between a conservationist spokesman and a representative of the developers.

Verbal salvos between Peter D. Whitney, executive director of the Committee to Save the Golden Gate, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael, whose legal firm represents Frouge Corp., was the only discordant note during an otherwise peaceful tour.

The unscheduled fireworks came on a windswept knoll above Fort Cronkhite.

Bagley and his law associate, Joseph E. Sheeks, had joined a crowd of about 200 on the trip.

Whitney opened his scheduled address with a pointed reference to Bagley's presence.

"I think it is only fair to announce that Assemblyman Bagley is here, as the attorney for Frouge Corp. Is that right, Mr. Bagley?"

"You've made enough misjudgments already," replied Bagley. "I'll give you one more."

Whitney charged that 53 tower apartment buildings, 16 stories high, would go up at Marincello, in the hills west of Fort Cronkhite and Rodeo Lagoon. "The Department of In-

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States today challenged stiffened North Vietnamese air defenses and sent 76 Air Force and Navy planes to pound military targets on Communist territory.

There were no reports of attempted interceptions by Communist fighters during two separate strikes by the American raiders.

Sixteen U.S. Air Force F105 jet fighter - bombers hammered Communist rail and highway traffic 120 miles south of Hanoi. An armada of 60 U.S. Navy bombers from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea struck radar installations just north of the 17th parallel border.

One of the F105s was shot down by anti-aircraft fire but the pilot was rescued.

MARINCELLO DUE HEARING IN JUNE

Planning Officials Differ On Timetables For Followup Session On Frouge's Plan

The Marin County Planning Commission today set for June 7 the first public hearing on the master plan of Marincello, the proposed planned community above Marin Headlands that would be home for 31,000 people.

At the same hearing, the commission will hear a representative of the Frouge Corp., Marincello developers, ask that density controls for planned community zoning be lifted to allow the plan as proposed.

Today's discussion on setting the hearing ran into a conflict. Attorney E. Warren Maguire, representing Frouge, asked that the hearing be handled like any other application. Commissioner Harry Heifetz concurred.

"I don't see where there are any unusual circumstances here," Heifetz said.

He suggested the first and second hearings be only two months apart. Planning Director B. D. Dobbs, however, thought two to three months separation would be preferable.

Other commissioners had varied opinions. The issue was finally resolved by not setting any second hearing now.

Presumably the second hearing will be set when the first comes to a close.

The commission must hold two hearings on a master plan but only one on the proposed lifting of density in the planned community zone.

"I'm sure we'll have several hearings on this," commission chairman Niels Schultz Jr. said.

I-J Series Will Spotlight San Rafael Candidate Views

How do San Rafael's candidates for mayor and city council in next Monday's election feel about various issues confronting the city?

In an effort to find out, the Independent - Journal posed a series of 10 questions to the two candidates for mayor and the four aspirants for two positions on the city council.

Answers of the mayoralty candidates will be published tomorrow, together with biographies sketches of the two—Dr. Charles W. Aby, incumbent city councilman, and Caesar Paul Bettini, incumbent president of the San Rafael Board of Education. Answers of the candidates for city council will appear the following day.

Here are the 10 questions they will answer:

Convict Escapes At San Quentin

A 36-year-old San Quentin inmate, member of the prison firehouse crew, escaped early today from the firehouse just outside the prison walls.

Richard J. Jurczak, serving time for first degree robbery and possession of firearms, was missing at a 4 a.m. bed check in the firehouse sleeping quarters.

The firehouse is operated on a minimum security basis and prison officials surmised that Jurczak slipped out of the firehouse and climbed the fence surrounding the prison grounds.

With a record showing 27 arrests, Jurczak started as a juvenile delinquent in 1944 when he was arrested for burglary.

A description of him issued today is: 5 feet 2 inches tall; hazel eyes and brown hair, weighing 160 pounds. He was wearing blue denim pants and a jacket.

Five Fished From Water After Boat Tips, Sinks

Five sailors fished from the cold bay yesterday after bobbing around 15 minutes, were surprised when their boat tipped but astonished when it sank.

Rescued by Fitz Maurice of Oakland in his boat were Tom Smallwood of Sausalito and Tom Lagerquist of San Francisco, boat owners; Paul and Susan Halme of Mill Valley and a girl identified only as Gretchen of San Francisco.

Smallwood said the party was jibbing (making a turn) at about 3 p.m. in the area of Racoon Straits when the boat, Peerless I, was struck by a big wave. The converted metal hulled lifeboat tipped over, momentarily trapping Gretchen.

"The boa should have trapped air when it turned over to keep it afloat," said Smallwood. It didn't. It sank. He said it was valued at between $500 and $800.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Mutilated Bodies Of Three Found

WATERVLIET, Mich. (AP)—The mutilated bodies of a girl and two women were found yesterday in an orchard area of this southeast Michigan community.

The victims were Diane Carter, 7, and Amelia Boyer, 60, and Mary Esther Jones, 37. All lived within 10 block of each other in Benton Harbor and neighboring Benton Township some 10 miles west of here.

Mrs. Boyer

The bodies were discovered in a small grove of scotch pine trees at the edge of an apple orchard owned by Henry Baier. The discovery was made by young boys who were bicycling along a dirt road.

Diane Carter

Investigators said the girl, daughter of Verbina Carter, apparently had been strangled by a stocking twisted around her neck. A pair of leotards she wore was stripped from one leg.

Mrs. Boyer's body was nude except for hose when found, investigators said. She had been slashed.

The Jones woman had been decapitated. What was believed to be her head was found this morning in an abandoned building in Benton Harbor, about a mile and a half from her home.

The Carter girl and the Jones woman were Negroes. Mrs. Boyer was white.

Boy, 16, Rescued From Snow Slide

CLAREMONT (AP)—When rescuers reached Abel Escalante, buried beneath five feet of snow, he was purple—but he was talking.

The 16-year-old boy was buried by an avalanche yesterday and spent 3½-hours beneath the snow as he lisened to searchers and tractors moving about on the surface.

Escalante

The searchers probed with bamboo poles over a 600-square-foot area at the 8,000-foot level on Mt. Baldy, a winter sports area 40 miles east of Los Angeles.

Shortly after noon the snow, which had been building up since a storm front moved over Southern California Wednesday, thundered down the mountainside, burying Escalante and three of his companions.

His companions were quickly rescued, but the slide carried him 100 feet farther down the slope.

"There was an air pocket six inches above my head," said Escalante shortly after he was treated at a nearby hospital and released to his parents. "My legs were doubled over and I couldn't move."

The moose is the largest antlered mammal that ever lived on earth.

South Can See Changes Ahead —Katzenbach

Says Violence Can Be Prevented By Local Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach says he thinks there has been a tremendous change in the racial climate throughout the nation.

"Certainly there has been a lot of change in the South," he said in an interview. "I think most people in the South see the inevitability of the future and accept it."

Does he foresee a "long, hot summer" on the racial front

"I think whether there are difficulties this coming summer will depend to a large extent on how well the mayors of the bigger cities, which have the biggest problems, move to meet these problems and to anticipate them — and how much we in the federal government can do to help such efforts," said the attorney general.

LOCAL ISSUE

"Most communities with sizable Negro populations have education problems, housing problems and unemployment problems. If government at the local level and the state level, as well as the federal level, does not move to do something about these problems, then I think one could say the chance of difficulties would be much greater than if it does.

"I don't suggest these problems can be solved by June. I think what is important is to indicate that they are recognized and they are being attacked and honestly faced up to — North and South."

OTHER OPINIONS

On other matters relating to civil rights, Katzenbach:

—Estimated the strength of the Ku Klux Klan at 10,000 men, but said, "I don't think the Klan has much influence over the general thinking of the South at all." He indicated, in reference to Klansmen, "I would be surprised if they were not" involved in recent bombings and bomb scares in Birmingham, Ala.

—Described Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's nationwide image as "that of a racist — a very anti-Negro image." But he said Wallace probably considers himself as a segregationist: "I suspect like many people in the South he does not see the relationship between segregation and racism."

—Asserted that the Communist party has attempted to inject itself into the American civil rights movement, but has been "remarkably unsuccessful in actually influencing any decisions, and certainly has not captured any of the leadership."

Klansman Defies Johnson

Hooded Rallies Listen To 'Megalomania' Claim

MORGANTON, N. C., (UPI) — Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton says President Johnson, "if he continues his yakking," may become one of the best organizers of the Ku Klux Klan has ever had.

Shelton also has accused the President of "using his office to establish himself as a megalomanias—a man who considers himself above God and thinks only he is capable of being a judge, jury and prosecutor."

Shelton, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., is head of the United Klans of America, generally regarded as the largest Klan group in America. He aired his views at two weekend Klan rallies, here Sunday and at Hemingway, S. C., Saturday night.

The rally at Morganton, a furniture and textile city of 10,000 in western North Carolina, was advertised for the "white publice only" in a local newspaper.

The highway patrol, which kept the rally under close surveilance, estimated the crowd at around 1,000 and said troopers counted more than 400 cars. There were no incidents or heckling during the 90-minute rally.

Shelton said the Klan would neither accept nor heed the mandate of President Johnson who recently warned of a federal clampdown on Klan activity. The President urged Klansmen to leave "hooded bigots" and return to decent society.

"We are not going to accept the mandate or heed it of Lyndon Baines Johnson who says we must accept the inevitable," Shelton told the crowd that gathered on a field about the size of two football fields.

"If he continues his yakking, he will be one of the greatest organizer the Klan ever had.

"The President of the United States has the audacity to go on national television when he wants to remove an obstacle by very easily creating a crisis."

CROSSES ABLAZE IN DETROIT AREA

Police Experts Seeking Clues To Five Klan Symbols Ignited Over Weekend

DETROIT (UPI)—Police and laboratory experts today sought clues to five fiery cross incidents in the Detroit area during the weekend.

Four of the Ku Klux Klan-type crosses were found in Detroit and a fifth was found outside a home in the all-white suburb of Beverly Hills, northwest of Detroit.

One of the crosses in Detroit was found on the front lawn of Anthony Liuzzo, husband of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, the civil rights worker who was slain near Selma, Ala., last month.

Another was found at the city-county building in downtown Detroit and a third had been burned outside the now vacant former headquarters of the Detroit chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The fourth was found burning in the front yard of Louis Washington, 38, a Negro factory worker who had moved into a previously all-white neighborhood on Detroit's northwest side about a year ago. Four other families had moved in since in a two block area.

The latest burning cross, found early yesterday morning, was planted in a ditch in front of the home of Paul Fitzgerald, white, a brick salesman for a building supply company, in Beverly Hills. Police said the cross was made of wood, about five feet tall and wrapped with rags soaked in flammable fluid, probably gasoline.

Laboratory experts hoped to find some clues by examining the materials used to fashion the crosses, and analyzing the residue of flammable fluid used to ignite them.

KKK Probe Evidence Offers Pour In WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Edwin E. Willis says unsolicited information has been pouring in for the congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Louisiana Democrat is chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which announced the probe last week.

Willis, interviewed on the CBS radio and television program "Face the Nation," said much of the help is in the form of letters from businessmen who offer to detail their experience with Klan threats.

Willis said the investigation — launched after President Johnson called the Klan "a hooded society of bigots" — will be divided into three phases.

The first, now under way, is the gathering of facts. It will be followed by hearings and then drafting of legislation.

Other legislation also is in the offing.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said he hopes to have his proposals ready for the President within two weeks.

The attorney general said he expects them to be aimed at giving the federal government jurisdiction over the sort of activities attributed to the Klan.

In other weekend developments concerning the Klan:

The Americans for Democratic Action went on record in opposition to the probe by the Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mrs. C. L. Wilkins of Birmingham accused President Johnson of prejudicing the trial of her son, one of four men identified as Klan members by Johnson, accused in the Alabama slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, 39, a civil rights worker from Detroit.

Mrs. Wilkins wrote Johnson that his announcement of the arrests of Collie Leroy Wilkins and three others Johnson identified as Klansmen made it impossible for a fair trial. She said the four "were branded guilty before the nation by the President of the United States."

Church Merger Talks At 'Showdown' Stage

LEXINGTON, Ky., (AP) — Representatives of six Christian denominations gathered today for an anticipated showdown decision on whether to try to form a united church.

"It's a crucial meeting," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

After three years of preliminary exploration, the inter denominational meeting was expected to determine if it has found sufficient basis for moving to the actual planning stage.

"We're coming down to the wire," said the Rev. Dr. Truman Douglass of the United Church of Christ, itself a recent two-way merger which included Congregationalists. "We've got to fish or cut bait."

The denominations involved have about 23 million members. Their general aim is a united church "truly catholic, truly reformed and trufly evangelical."

Besides the Presbyterian and United churches, others taking part are the Methodist Church, the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ).

Representatives of 16 additional denominations, including most major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox bodies in this country as well as the Roman Catholic Church, are sitting in as observers.

In Poor Condition

Mrs. Marlene Heirsche, 25, of Martinez, remained in poor condition at Marin eneral Hospital today. She and her son, David, 7, were hospitalized after the Martinez car skidded and rolled off Highway 101 north of Novato eight days ago. David was in satisfactory condition.

Eel River Discussion On Agenda

Should Marin County join the Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Assn. with the hope of eventually receiving water from the Eel?

That will be one of the decisions the Marin County Board of Supervisors will face tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. but the Eel River matter will not come up until 11 a.m. at the earliest.

If the board agrees to join the association, other Northern California counties which are already members must act on the bid before it can come to pass.

Other items on tomorrow's agenda include the proposed room tax on hotels and motels, continued review of the proposed five-year capital improvements program for the county and a report from county Agricultural Commissioner Richard Straw on what schools in the county are doing to educate pupils on dangers of poison oak.

County Budgeting Begins; Salaries Still Big Question

Computers began whirring and pencils began scratching at the Marin County Civic Center today as compilation of the recommended 1965-66 budget began.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said, however, there is still considerable head scratching to do, one major thing still to decide being the recommendation on salary changes for next year.

Bruce said Personnel Director Robert Elliott is completing a new salary schedule that will recommend spot adjustments to establish more competitive salaries and "internal equity."

Mrs. LaVerne Robinson, president of the Marin County Employees Assn., said the association will meet tomorrow night with salaries as one of the main topics. She said the association will probably ask a blanket percentage increase in all county salaries.

Bruce said he could not give any budget total until the printed budget recommendation goes to the board of supervisors on May 14.

Staff Needs On Tap

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Is Still Chance For Boy To Grow Taller After Age Of 17

VAN DELLEN

A boy writes: "Three months ago you wrote an article on an underdeveloped boy. You said he was normal except for his height. This is my problem. I'm 17 years old and 5'2". My doctor said he did not know of anything to stimulate growth. Could you give me any information?"

There are wide variations in the ages at which normal children attain their adult stature. As a rule, boys stop growing between 18 to 20 years of age; girls, 16 to 18 years. At this time growth centers (epiphyses) at the end of the bones become inactive. This boy is 17 and should have X-rays of the bones to determine whether his skeletal growth is retarded, normal, or if a few extra inches can be anticipated. The potential for growth is determined in this way rather than by acutal age.

THE USE OF the new but rare human growth hormone is of value in persons who fail to to grow because of a pituitary deficiency. We referred to this substance in a previous article but it is not available for normal teen-agers who think they are not going to reach average height.

Thyroid and male sex hormones are reported to be helpful, especially in boys with signs of a deficiency in these organs. In one report, many youngsters receiving this combination were approaching or entering puberty. It was difficult to tell whether the growth spurt was due to the medicine or would have occurred anyway. This is the trouble with evaluating drugs that stimulate growth. The physician must be able to distinguish between growth disturbances due to a glandular disorder and those due to heredity. The easiest to correct are those caused by thyroid deficiency.

MANY ATTEMPTS have been made to find a formula that will predict the ultimate adult height. An old rule of thumb is that the average height of a man is slightly more than double his height at age 2. A woman will be slightly less than double her height at this age. There are many errors in this concept because nutrition, periods of illness, and the endocrine glands may alter growth. The so-called bone age is said to be more accurate after age 8. This is determined by radiologists.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NERVES AND PIPE SMOKE

Mrs. G. D. writes: Is it possible to be allergic to pipe smoke? I'm fine during the day, but after dinner my husband lights one pipe after another until the living room is hazy. I begin to choke, sputter, and have pains in my chest. Also, most of the time I have heartburn. Have you ever heard of this condition before, and do you think it is due to nerves?

REPLY

OVUM MUST TRAVEL

Mrs. M. writes: Is pregnancy possible without Fallopian tubes?

REPLY

No, because the ovum use these passageways in traveling from the ovary to the uterus.

PSORIASIS AND DIABETES

G. S. writes: Is there any relationship between psoriasis and diabetes?

REPLY

No, but there may be a relationship between psoriasis and rheumatoid arthritis.

2. Do you agree with the fiscal policies which have prevailed in San Rafael city government, particularly with that of avoiding bonded indebtedness and financing capital improvement through some other means than bond issues?

3. Do you think some formal liaison should be established between the school department and the city council?

4. Do you think more such city commissions and committees as the parks and recreation commission, planning commission, fire commission, traffic committee, etc., should be created, and if so, for what? Or do you think some of the existing ones are superfluous and should be abolished?

5. The public works department is at present exempted from control of the city manager. Do you think this exemption should remain?

6. Do you favor the proposed municipal housing for the elderly, which is being presented to the voters as a ballot measure?

7. Do you favor amending the charter to make possible appointment of a finance director rather than having those duties come under the city clerk? This is proposed in a ballot measure.

8. Do you favor making the city clerk position appointive, as proposed in another ballot measure?

9. Would you favor making the police chief appointive? The city attorney?

10. Do you think the San Rafael city charter should be revised? And would you be in favor of instituting a complete overhaul of the charter by a citigen committee or board of freeholders?

Triple Crash In Tiburon Injures Four

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a three-vehicle collision yesterday on Tiburon Boulevard near Stewart Drive in Little Reed Heights.

Treated at Marin General Hospital were Anthony Bettencourt, 60, of 41 Francis Avenue, Larkspur, who suffered a broken nose and multiple cuts; his wife, Matilda, 47, face cuts; their granddaughter, Jacqueline Hines, 3, a face cut; and Edward Castleton Jr., 38, San Francisco, face cuts and possible fractures of the left arm and right leg.

All were admitted but Bettencourt.

Sheriff's deputies said Bettencourt was driving his car on Tiburon Boulevard about 4 p.m. when he smashed into the rear of a pickup truck driven by Marshall Foster, 30, of 11 Sierra Court, Tiburon.

The latter vehicle was halted on Tiburon Boulevard, readying to make a left turn onto Stewart Drive, officers said. The impact shoved the truck across into the oncoming traffic lane, according to the report, and the truck crashed headon into an approaching car driven by Castleton.

No citation had been issued this morning, deputies said.

mountains 190 miles northeast of Saigon.

Two U.S. Army advisers were wounded yesterday in a clash with the Viet Cong in Binh Dinh Province 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

As the tempo of the war quickened on both sides of the 17th parallel, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor returned to Saigon with new plans to boost American military strength. Taylor was in Washington last week for high - level strategy talks in Washington with President Johnson and Defense Department officials.

A military spokesman said the jet fighter-bombers encountered no opposition from North Vietnamese interceptor aircraft during today's air raid. Two F105s were downed yesterday by North Vietnamese MIG jet fighters when American planes destroyed a bridge near Thanh Hoa only 75 miles south of Hanoi. It was the first time Communist planes had downed American craft.

The helicopter crewman killed today was pinned beneath the wreckage when the craft crash-landed, skidded and burned. The rest of the crew was unhurt.

The crash was attributed to a power failure. The helicopter was flying an escort mission at the time.

The two wounded American troops were accompanying Vietnamese forces rushing to the aid of two Binh Dinh Province hamlets under Communist attack.

The relief column encountered an estimated three companies of Viet Cong. The bodies of 37 guerrillas were left on the battlefield when the shooting ended.

Vietnamese losses were placed at 9 dead and 10 wounded.

In other action on the ground, Communist commandoes raided the provincial capital at Tam Ky 35 miles southeast of the big American airbase at Da Nang Sunday. The city's administrative office and powerhouse were damaged. Three persons were wounded when the commandoes opened fire on the provincial prison.

Hub Policeman Revives Man In Patrol Car

Reserve San Anselmo police officer Oavid Oliva, giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in a speeding patrol car, today kept alive a man who had taken a bottle of sleeping pills and who had stopped breathing.

Allen Swanson, 38, of 296 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, was reported unconscious and in critical condition after being sped to Marin General Hospital by police at 1:45 a.m.

Police were called by Swanson's wife, Sharon, who said her husband had just swallowed the pills. She said he had been depressed for several weeks, but could give no reason.

Oliva, with Sgt. George Alberigi and officers Morgan Peterson and Rudolph Velarde, arrived at the home to find Swanson already unconscious. He was placed in the patrol car and was headed for the hospital when his breathing stopped.

Oliva started forcing air into the man's lungs and breathing started again. Officers continued to work on the man during the trip, and oxygen was administered as soon as he reached the hospital emergency room.

and two small pry bars. The bars served as excellent anchors to keep the bag from floating away.

Inside the cafe, the safe was a battered wreck. It had been ripped apart with the pry bars.

Bigelow related that he had continued to use the old safe which Sam Vella, former owner, used for years because Vella told him that "no safecracker could handle it."

Sheriff's Sgt. Wade R. Powell said the burglars entered the building by jimmying a rear door.

At 6:50 a.m., a station wagon owned by Charles F. Kinkie, a mail carrier of 2130 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was stolen from the Belvedere - Tiburon Post Office. It was later found abandoned on Highway 101 near Marin City. Officers said they were investigating possibility that the vehicle theft was connected with the escape of the second burglar.

East Germans Halt Traffic To Berlin For 'Maneuvers'

Reds Believed Reacting To Parliamentary Session

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communists, defying Western access rights to West Berlin, closed the Berlin autobahn for more than 3½ hours today and MIG jet fighters flew across the air corridors leading to the divided city.

The Communists claimed their actions were necessary because of East German-Soviet military maneuvers. Westerners believed they were in retaliation for West Germany's plans to hold a session of Parliament in West Berlin Wednesday to underline the West's contention that West Berlin is part of West Germany.

It was the first time in 16 years that the Communist completely halted all automobile traffic moving to and from Berlin over the 110-mile highway through East Germany. Secondary roads were open, but some delays were reported.

The steel barriers at Berlin and Helmstedt, on the West German frontier, went down at 9:30 a.m. Armed Communist guards refused Germans, as well as Allied travelers, the right to cross East Germany. The barriers were lifted again at 1 p.m. in Berlin and at 2 p.m. at Helmstedt.

In the air, Allied radar screens picked up one MIG fighter over a U.S. Air Force Convair transport flying the air corridor to Berlin.

Another MIG buzzed Tegel Airport in the French sector of Berlin, coming down to 300 feet to flash over the runway of the airfield used by Western commercial aircraft.

The Communists originally indicated that the closure of the autobahn would last until 4 p.m. The fact that the highway was reopened earlier took some Westerners by surprise. Shortly before, West Berlin had been buzzing with rumors that the U.S. Army was preparing an armed convoy that would challenge the right of the East Germans to close the border.

There was some thought here that the Russians ordered the reopening because they did not want confrontation with the U.S. Army.

The Russians had notified the Western powers that Soviet military aircraft would fly across the air corridors and that certain altitudes could not be used by the three Western airlines that serve West Berlin.

The Soviets said they wanted to use the altitudes from 2,000 to 4,000 feet. Commercial planes normally fly between 6,000 and 7,000 feet, except on their approach to Berlin.

A U.S. military convoy made the road trip from West Berlin to West Germany without interference, but it left the divided city before the East Germans closed the superhighway across East Germany.

IRS PRESENTS CONDITIONAL TAX BREAK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says arrangements can be made for those who face undue hardship if they cannot pay their income tax in full on April 15.

In a special announcement, however, the IRS attached two conditions:

That the taxpayer must prove he would encounter "undue hardship, as distinguished from mere inconvenience."

That interest at 6 per cent will be charged on the unpaid portion.

The IRS said all taxpayers must submit their returns by the April 15 deadline to avoid

LBJ Bill Would Hike Bread Price

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson asked Congress today to adopt farm legislation which would save the government about $200 million, but increase the price of bread to the housewife by an estimated one cent a loaf.

In addition to the rise in bread prices, Agriculture Department officials estimated that the new farm measure would mean a hike of a "few pennies per pound" in the retail price of rice.

The proposed legislation would shift some farm price support costs from the Treasury to the retail food-buyer. The estimated $200 million annual saving this would bring would come principally in the government's wheat and rice support programs with the consumer picking up the tab for domestic marketing certificates.

It was expected that the total cost increase to the consumer would amount to about $300 million. The $100 million difference between that cost and the anticipated government saving would represent an increase in farm income.

In addition to the wheat and rice programs, Johnson asked for legislation covering feed grains, wool, cropland adjustment and transfer of allotments. There was no request for cotton legislation, principally because farm and congressional leaders still are sharply divided on this issue.

The domestic and export marketing certificates now used in the wheat program would be continued and also applied to rice. By setting the value of the two certificates, the government could advance the domestic price of wheat and rice, while keeping export prices competitive with world prices.

In the rice program, the number of certificates a farmer would get would depend on the amount of rice he decided to produce. A big producer would get less taxpayer help than would a small producer.

Agriculture officials said the proposed programs would maintain farm income, reduce surplus stocks, lower government costs, and keep food costs low.

17 Feared Dead As Quake Hits Greece Pelopennesus

ATHENS (UPI) — A triple-shock earthquake today struck Greece's Pelopennesian peninsula with devastating force.

The Ministry of Interior said at least 17 persons were reported killed and 30 others seriously injured. Dozens received minor injuries.

Three provinces — Arakadia, Massinia and Ilia — were declared emergency areas.

It was the second earthquake to hit Greece in six days.

Heavy damage was reported today in the cities of Olympia and Megalopolis. Although homes lay in ruins in villages near the famed museum at Olympia, a spokesman said everything at the archaeological center there was "intact."

A total of 225 small homes in and around the Olympia area were leveled and another 246 homes were damaged.

Olympia is about 100 miles west-southwest of Athens.

Apoditsa and Horemi, two villages near Megalopolis to the south, were reported almost completely destroyed. Four persons were killed when the roof of a house collapsed.

Premier George Papandreou called a special cabinet meeting to deal with the stricken region. The ministers of health and welfare were dispatched to the stricken area to supervise rescue operations.

Larkspur Gets New Alert Radios

A $500 hose washer and a complete system of home receivers for volunteers have arrived in Larkspur for fire department use, and the receivers have all been installed.

The receivers were purchased by the city after a $2,500 donation, covering about half the cost, was made by the Larkspur volunteer firemen. The volunteers paid the entire cost of the hose washer.

The signal system includes units in city trucks and the city corporation yard and is tied in with the Kentfield Fire District alarm system.

The abacus, a frame with beads strung on wires, is a forerunner of the modern electronic computers. Although it goes back several thousand years, it is undoubtedly still the most widely used digital computer.

Tiburon Zone Hearing Date May Be Set

The Tiburon Planning Commission tonight will set date for a hearing on a zoning change which would permit construction of a restaurant and hotel rooms on Main Street extension.

Fred G. Zelinsky is asking the change from planned residential zoning to planned commercial designation on Main Street in the vicinity of the Salvage Shop.

The shop building and some other small wooden buildings near it would come down and in their place would go what Zelinsky terms a "British inn" with dining room seating 65 persons and 10 guest rooms in the two-story building.

Zelinsky said today other quarters would be found in one of his buildings for the Salvage Shop, a Tiburon Peninsula institution.

The commission action at the meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School is expected to be limited to setting the hearing date.

Also on the agenda is consideration of an ordinance voiding all adjustment and use permits if they are not used within a year.

Lawmakers Gingerly Tackle Tax Increase

SACRAMENTO (AP)—While most Californians worried today over how to pay this year's income tax, the legislature edged up to the ticklish problem of how to raise state taxes.

With the 24-week session about 60 per cent gone, legislators finally — reluctantly — were on the verge of getting a specific look at the first of three major tax revision proposals.

Due for introduction tomorrow was the biggest, widest-ranging tax program ever proposed in California—a $1.10 billion package drawn up under the sponsorship of Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles.

Key aim of their program is relief for the property taxpayer. When he first reported the plan Jan. 27, Petris said the $2 billion now paid by state property owners annually would be slashed by $710 million. But while local taxes would fall in some areas, state taxes would rise, under the Petris-Unruh program.

For instance, local taxes levled on property owners to finance California's public schools would be cut by 25 per cent. But at the same time, the state sales tax would jump from 4 to 5 per cent, and all the added revenue would go to local governments to replace the lost quarter of their school tax take.

The assemblyman's plan also incorporates several other changes in state and local tax collecting that would add up to a major long-term adjustment in taxing methods in the nation's most populous state.

Gov. Brown's own program to lift some of the financial burden from property owners is expected to be introduced late this week or early next week. He already has proposed the rest of his general tax legislation, but the specific bills to implement it still haven't been introduced.

The governor's package is similar to that of Petris and Unruh in some areas, but differs in others. Both agree that the current cigarette tax of 3 cents a package should rise to 8 cents, and that state personal income taxes should be collected by withholding, as are federal taxes.

The third significant tax proposal in sight is that of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee. Its recommendations will carry much weight in the upper house, as will the Petris-Unruh proposals in the lower house.

The Senate suggestions are to be made public in the next couple of weeks. It will be late May at the earliest before any tax legislation begins moving, if lawmakers follow normal practice. This year's path is expected to be more difficult than usual, with three complex, highly debated and strongly backed tax revision packages up for consideration.

The only thing almost all legislators agree on is that California taxes will be raised this year. The question is how, and how much.

FORT BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The Army said yesterday Brig. Gen. Stillwell, seriously injured during a parachute jump last week, was somewhat improved.

Airman Dragged From Span Rail

A 22-year-old airman from Hamilton Air Force Base was dragged away from the railing on Golden Gate Bridge at 4:43 p.m. Saturday by California Highway Patrolmen.

A/1c Ronald Robert Bracco of 78th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, was seen sitting on the east side bridge railing and had to be forcibly pulled away. Officers said he was mentally depressed and almost on the point of tears.

Bracco, who comes from Alabama, has a wife living in Selma. The airman told highway patrol officers he had some marriage and financial problems and "decided to end it all."

Bracco was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

Marinites Loading Truck For Mississippi Negroes

A Marin group plans to send a two-ton truck, loaded with clothing, food, books and household items for Mississippi Negroes in time to arrive in Maben and West Point Miss. by Easter.

Sponsors of the Marin to Mississippi campaign said today they still need more donations of food—particulary dried milk, beans and macaroni—and toothpaste, soap and other notions.

The truck, donated by Pateck-Ecklon Co. of San Francisco, will probably be driven by a student of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, according to campaign co-chairman Sue Forest of Novato. It will leave next Monday.

Volunteers will pack the truck next weekend with all contributions received by Friday, she said.

Collection depots include the Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael; St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 3 Bay View Avenue, Belvedere; the Patrick H. Martin residence garage, 647 Wake Robin Lane, Terra Linda, and the Sew-Sew Shop, 624 Grant Avenue, Novato.

A fund-raising dinner at the Norman Laden residence in San Rafael Friday raised about $160 to help defray the cost of Pacheco School teacher Robert Long's recent trip to Alabama.

About 150 persons there heard attorneys Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Sleepy Hollow and Joseph Forest of Novato, describe their experiences in Mississippi while they took depositions from Negroes who were denied the right to register to vote.

The program, held at St. Isabella's Parish Center in Terra Linda, was sponsored by St. Isabella's, Faith Lutheran, Church of the Nativity, Lutheran Church of Resurrection, Unitarian-Universalist Church, Ministarium of Terra Linda and First Congregational Church.

NOVATO WOMAN PICKETS MODEL HOME

Mrs. Charles M. Dixon of 641 Midway Boulevard, Novato, trudged up and down with picket sign all day yesterday in front of Forest Park subdivision model home at Midway Boulevard and Sunset Parkway, near her own home. Mrs. Dixon is feuding with Kaehler-Farrar Co., builders of the subdivision. She claims the roof of her house leaks and the floors have buckled, and the builders have failed to do anything about it. The year's maintenance guarantee on the house expired recently, and Mrs. Dixon decided to take direct action. Hence the picketing. Officials of the firm could not be reached today for comment.

Bagley, Conservationist Argue Over Marincello

terior reports that 12 of them will show from San Francisco right down to the foundation," he said.

Whitney said Marincello should confine its buildings to the "traditional single-family ranch style houses." He said he would prefer to see a national cemetery there than tower apartments and hotels.

Whitney then introduced Assemblyman Bagley, who took up the challenge.

"I came here only to listen," said Bagley. "I hoped my personal presence would persuade Mr. Whitney from distorting the picture, both actually and figuratively."

The San Rafael assemblyman said he has been working to get Marin Headlands acquired as a state park, and the effort is bearing fruit.

But the Marincello land to the east is privately owned. As long as the public cannot buy it outright, there will be development, Bagley declared.

"Do we want a ticky-tacky Terra Linda or do we want something different?" Bagley contended that Marincello, using the cluster development idea, would provide "something different."

"I have been fighting extremism in politics," said Bagley. "Extremism in distorting photos in the defense of beauty is not necessarily a virtue."

Bagley was referring to photographs of the area, with a sketch of buildings superimposed on the photos, which were circulated by Whitney's group. Whitney later admitted that the artist who drew the sketches went somewhat over the Marincello boundary and into Fort Cronkhite land. "That doesn't change the effect," Whitney claimed.

The crowd was noticeably hostile toward Bagley.

"I think he tossed his cigarette on the ground right in the middle of his speech!" grumbled one conservationist.

Yesterday's field trip through Marin headlands and Mount Tamalpais climaxed a three-day Wilderness Conference sponsored by the Sierra Club.

Another speaker was Joseph E. Bodovitz, study director for the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Commission.

He warned that uncontrolled filling of San Francisco Bay could destroy esthetics, increase water pollution, reduce wildlife, and result in hotter temperatures and more smog.

"We should adopt the motto: 'Save the Bay or be like L.A.' " Bodovitz concluded.

Speaker during the picnic lunch at the Mountain Theater was William Penn Mott, general manager of East Bay Regional Park District.

Mott urged support of Senate Bill 309, San Francisco Sen. Eugene J. McAteer's bill to control bay filling.

He also advanced the idea of a "hostel-hiking trail program," which would link up all ridges of the Bay Area with a coordinated network of hiking and riding trails.

Mott said side trails could dip down to the ocean, where mothballed Navy ships could be anchored to be used as hostels by hikers and small boat enthusiasts.

E. H. Grubb of the Sierra Club was program chairman for the tour. The group was unable to attend the Dag Hammarskjold Memorial Redwood Grove dedication ceremonies at Muir Woods yesterday afternoon because of lack of time.

Convict Kills Himself, Another Is Stabbed

A convicted murderer killed himself at San Quentin Prison yesterday and another inmate was stabbed, reported Raymond L. Wham, associate warden.

Thomas Lee Venerable, 22, serving a life sentence for first degree murder, was found by an attendant at 4:20 a.m. hanging by a bedsheet in his prison hospital cell. Wham said the prisoner, a psychiatric patient, once before had tried to kill himself.

Committed from Los Angeles county, Venerable came to San Quentin in June, 1963, and was transferred to Vacaville Medical Facility after an earlier suicide bid last November, when he was also indicted for stabbing two other inmates.

Proceedings were held over pending a sanity hearing scheduled for today. Venerable was returned to San Quentin in February.

In the other incident, Paul Julian Esparza, a 26-year-old inmate, suffered a small superficial stab wound in the back yesterday afternoon. It is not yet known who did the stabbing or why.

At 3:10 p.m. Prison Officer J. W. Townsend became suspicious of prisoners' behavior in the east block, fifth tier section, and in a search the wounded man was discovered and a 10-inch knife was found. There is some doubt, however, whether this was the weapon used, said Associate Warden Wham.

Esparza, who was put in a separate cell after medical treatment, came to San Quentin in August, 1963. Committed from Los Angeles County, he is serving two concurrent terms of two to 20 years for possession of narcotics.

Bloch Festival Opens With Bright Program

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

College of Marin's Ernest Bloch Festival was opened brilliantly Saturday night in the new gymnasium by Maestro Gerhard Samuel and his chamber orchestra and several top soloists.

Programming was handled very well to provide variety—a special problem when the works of only one composer are performed, though Bloch's wide range of creative expression made this not too difficult.

From the standpoint of instrumental volume—16 stringed instruments and piano — and popular appeal, the Concerto Grosso No. 1 for string orchestra with piano obbligato was probably most impressive, but, in a neo-classic application of the classic form, except for illustrating the composer's skill in fugue structure, it was not a work showing his most distinctive characteristics.

The most vivid emotional impact came in the Piano Sonata because of the superb performance of Istvan Nadas and because it was the only work showing Bloch's capacity for expressing philosophical mysticism and turbulent, almost savage feelings. Nadas' command of both percussive - incisive and ethereal styles made him a wise choice for this stellar role.

From the standpoint of fresh experience and demonstrating Bloch's geniality, gaity and puckish humor, the Concertino for flute, clarinet and string orchestra and Suite Modal for flute and string orchestra were outstanding. These were respectively a West Coast premiere and a first performance.

Flutist Gary Gray and clarinetist Rudolph Tapiro were the excellent soloists who so successfully conveyed these moods.

In Gerhard Samuel the Bay Area evidently has one of the rising young conductors of the country. Special praise is also due his concertmistress Judith Poska.

The second concert of the festival will be given next Sunday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Marin Quartet's Finale 'Singing'

The Marin Arts Quartet's closing concert in its eighth annual series yesterday afternoon at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley again proved that for "pure" or "absolute" music, nothing can surpass a string quartet.

One was reminded that at their best, "singing" is indeed a proper term for strings because their warmth, flexibility and possibility for crescendo and diminuendo are nearest to those of the human voice. Quartet members Charles Meacham and Cicely Edmunds, violinists, violist Elizabeth Bell and Cellist Jean Maguire are masters of this art.

Most outstandin as a showpiece of elemental rhythms, exotic harmonies and technical virtuosity was Villa-Lobos' String Quartet No. 7. The quartet performed hits exceptionally well with the four voices in the best balance as a whole.

In the poetic and frankly melodious "Late Swallows" Quartet No. 2 by Delius was some of the loveliest pianissimo string playing we have ver heard.—M.S.

Driver Breaks Leg As Auto Hits Tree

John F. Kelleher Jr., 41, of 1092 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, was in "fair" condition in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit yesterday with leg cuts and a bruised shoulder after his station wagon hit a tree at 1809 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, Saturday.

Patrolman R. Averiette of Ean Rafael Police was called to the scene at 6:27 p.m. He found Kelleher on the floor of his vehicle. The station wagon was wrecked.

Chamber Quintet, Program Evenly Matched As Pearls

By ELEANOR WEIL

Saturday night saw Brown's Hall, Mill Valley, filled with chamber music enthusiasts who heard an outstanding musical offering in the last of the candlelight concert series.

The Danzi Woodwind Quintet from Amsterdam was presented in a concert of baroque and modern works, all of equal interest, by composers both familiar and unfamiliar.

The first number was by late 18th Century composer and basoonist Francois R. Gebauer. That he is relatively unknown is a pity. Second was Mozart's Andante and Fantasy for barrel organ instrumented by Frans Vester, the Danzi flutist. In the Fantasy was a neat and charming F Minor Fugue.

Following were pieces by Ibert, which were band-concert catchy, and "Allegro and Arioso" by contemporary American Ingolf Dahl. The work was intricate, demanding, and included a beautiful unison.

Concluding the program was a five-movement early Hindemith work which was clear, melodious and less dissonant than much of his later work. The encore was "French March" by Francais, which brought smiles even from the players.

The precision of this ensemble, purity of tone, artistry and individual skill are indescribable. They are as evenly matched as fine pearls.

Cyclists Injured In Car Collision

A San Rafael motorcyclist and his passenger were treated for minor cuts and bruises at Marin General Hospital last night after they were thrown from their machcine when it collided with a car on Wolfe Grade just north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 6:15 p.m.

Released after treatment were Walter Pederson, 22, of 2198 Danberry Lane, and his passenger, Donald Geary, 21, of Treenhaven Drive, both San Rafael.

California Highway Patrol said the motorcycle crossed the center line and hit a car driven by Edward Smith of 21 Wolfback Road, Sausalito, who was unhurt.

Cameras Stolen At Tiburon Home

Jack K. Parle, a commercial artist of 125 Stewart Drive, Tiburon, complained to the Sheriff's office friday that two cameras and other property worth a total of $750 were stolen from his home the same day.

Entry was by cutting a section of glass in the kitchen door, he said.

Deputies are also investigating the theft of a four-speed car transmission unit from a garage owned by MacAndy's Used Auto Parts at Dolan's Corner, Tamalpais Valley. The burglary occurred last Thursday or Friday.

Kidnap-Theft Case Broken By Phone Tip

OAKLAND (UPI) — Oakland police today captured a man suspected of burglarizing the San Francisco Emporium yesterday and kidnaping a watchman.

Lt. Harold McCormac said an anonymous telephone call led them to a hotel at 800 14th St. There, police arrested Richard Anderson, 23, a former inmate of Atascadero State Hospital, and his girl friend, Carole Morrow, 19. Several thousand dollars in loot was recovered, McCormac said.

McCormac said Anderson admitted it was he who surprised watchman James Sheesley, 43, as the watchman made his rounds on the third floor of the department store.

Sheesley said a man in stocking feet pressed a gun against his back and forced him to go along on a looting tour of the store.

The watchman said the robber finally forced him out the back door of the store and loaded the duffle bags of loot into Sheesley's car. The gunman then forced Sheesley to drive him to Oakland, where the watchman was ordered out and instructed where he could find the car in 10 minutes.

Marin City Turnout Listens To Candidates

One hundred and 10 persons attended a school board candidates' meeting yesterday afternoon in Marin City. Nathaniel Johnson, David E. Freedheim and Bruce E. Woelfel spoke as candidates for Sausalito School District board, and Rev. Samuel L. Banks and Glen Robinson as candidates from Area Five for Marin County Board of Education.

Harold L. Sleight, Sausalito School Board president, spoke against unification, and William P. Everts Jr., candidate for Mill Valley School District board, spoke favoring. Mrs. Theresa Mitchell was chairman of the event.

Defandant Given Right To Confront

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court extended today to state criminal trials the U.S. Constitution's fundamental right of a defendant to question witnesses against him.

Justice Hugo L. Black, delivering the unanimous decision, declared that "the Sixth Amendment's right of an accused to confront the witnesses against him is likewise a fundamental right and is made obligatory on the states by the 14th Amendment."

Ruling in a Texas state court criminal case, Black declared:

"It cannot seriously be doubted at this late date that the rights of cross-examination is included in the right of an accused in a criminal case to confront the witnesses against him. And probably no one, certainly no one experienced in the trial of lawsuits, would deny the value of cross-examination in exposing falsehood and bringing out the truth in the trial of a criminal case.

"The fact that this right appears in the Sixth Amendment of our Bill of Rights reflects the belief of the framers of those liberties and safeguards that confrontation was a fundamental right essential to a fair trial in a criminal prosecution."

The Supreme Court overturned conviction of Bob Granville Pointer on a charge of holding up the manager of a food market in Houston. Pointer was sentenced to life imprisonment. He complained to the Supreme Court that he had no attorney at a preliminary hearing to question the manager. The manager's testimony was later read to the trial jury. The manager, Kennedy W. Phillips, had moved to California.

TV Sandpaper Shave Commercial Outlawed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today Colgate-Palmolive Co. deceived the public with television commercials using a faked "sandpaper" test of Palmolive shave cream.

Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the majority decision. Justice John M. Harlan dissented in part, with Justice Potter Stewart joining him.

In the commercials, a surface supposed to represent sandpaper was covered with shaving cream, then shaved clean with a single razor stroke. Actually the demonstration did not use sandpaper, but a simulated mockup of sand and Plexiglass.

Warren said the court upheld a Federal Trade Commission order against the Colgate commercial.

The chief justice noted arguments had been made that the order might be too broad. He said, as to this, that anyone doubtful as to a future course could ask the commission to give them definitive advice.

In the Colgate case, Warren said, the company had produced three different commercials using "the same deceptive practice."

"This we believe gave the commission sufficient basis for believing that the respondents would be inclined to use similar commercials with respect to othe other products they advertise," Warren said.

TRADITION FALLS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chief Justice Earl Warren announced today that starting April 26 the Supreme Court will hand down decisions on any day it is in session instead of waiting for the long, traditional Monday session.

Warren said the court would adhere to its custom of not announcing in advance which decisions were ready.

RIDERS FREED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court summarily reversed today the 1961 convictions in Montgomery, Ala., of group of white and Negro "freedom riders" including Yale University chaplain William Sloan Coffin Jr.

Ten of the 11 "riders" were convicted of both unlawfully assembly and breach of the peace. The arrest occurred after some of them sat together at a segregated lunch counter at a bus station.

The riders were accompanied to the station by members of the Alabama National Guard.

Today's reversal was delivered in a one - sentence unsigned order, citing a previous decision. Justice Hugo L. Black and Byron R. White did not participate.

LBJ Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House by helicopter last night after a weekend visit to Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains where he conferred with Canada's Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

Californian, Army Man Called Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents seized two men today—including a Pentagon courier who was missing for two months last fall—on charges of selling U.S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union.

Agents arrested Army Sgt. Robert Lee Johnson, 43, of Alexandria, Va., at the Pentagon, and James Allen Mintkenbaugh, 46, of San Martin, Calif. Mintkenbaugh was arrested in Castro Valley, Calif.

The two were arrested after the FBI filed a complaint in U.S. District Court at Alexandria, Va., charging they conspired together and with a Russian, Vitaly Ourjoumov, and others, to obtain and deliver to Russia information on the national defense of the United States.

Ourjoumov is named as a coconspirator in the complaint. He formerly was assigned to the Russian Embassy in Paris and reportedly is now in Russia, the FBI said.

Johnson, according to the complaint, was recruited to spy for the Soviets while stationed in Berlin in 1953. The FBI said he recruited Mintkenbaugh in 1953, when Mintkenbaugh also was in the Army.

The FBI said they were "particularly concerned with furnishing classified information relating to military installations, missile sites and intelligence activities of the U.S. government at both foreign and domestic locations."

The complaint said both men had received various sums of money from the Soviets. During a period between February 1957 and April 1958, the FBI said, Johnson accepted $300 a month from the Russians while he was assigned to an unidentified Nike missile site in California. He is accused of having furnished photographs of technical manuals on the site, as well as photos of portions of the site itself, to the Soviet Union through Mintkenbaugh.

Johnson mysteriously disappeared from his home in Alexandria last Oct. 2. The FBI said he had removed $2,000 from his bank account and taken his new car, which was found Nov. 8 in Richmond, Va. He surrendered to military authorities in Reno, Nev., Nov. 25, and was courtmartialed in December for being absent without leave from his duties with the Armed Forces Courier Station at the Pentagon.

Mintkenbaugh wasdischarged from the Army in 1956. But the FBI said he continued spying for the Soviets "even to the extent of taking special courses in Moscow, where he received training in codes, secret writings, microdots, photography and related intelligence subjects."

Mintkenbaugh is single and a native of St. Bernard, Ohio, the FBI said.

Johnson, a native of Farmingdale, N.J., lived in Alexandria until recently with his wife, Hedwig, whom he married in Berlin in 1953, and two children.

Divers Find Explorers All Alive in Cave

FIFTYSIX, Ark. (UPI)—Divers today reached four explorers trapped in a rain-flooded cave and reported them alive and well. They will be brought out through the water with scuba diving gear.

Six divers, flown in from the U.S. Navy Diving School at Washington, plunged into the murky depths of Rowland Cave in this Ozark foothill community and reached the four spelunkers who have been trapped since Saturday.

The divers made contact at 11 a.m., CST. They decided to bring down scuba apparatus — air tanks and mouthpieces — and teach the spelunkers how to use it.

Lt. A. P. Feftay of the U.S. Navy said it would take a little time.

Then the spelunkers will be brought up through the water that blocked the path into the cavern.

Monument Planned In FDR's Memory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's first monument to Franklin D. Roosevelt will be dedicated next Monday, the 20th anniversary of his death.

Park Cleanup Report Due

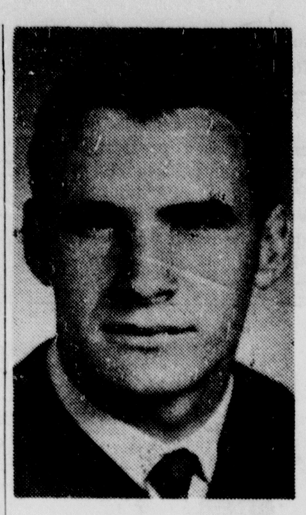

Results of the cleanup day for Pioneer Memorial park will be reported to the Novato parks and recreation commission at 8 p.m. today in the community house.

The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis and Lions clubs and North Marin Youth Council helped spearhead cleanup of the old cemetery on Simmons Lane, which has been taken over by the city for a memorial park.

The commission will also consider the city's taking over the four-acre Lion Club Park at Stafford Dam. The North Marin County Water District, which owns the land, has given permission for the city to operate the park.

Vehicle Stolen

Guido Biagini, 45 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, told police yesterday his car was taken during the night from in front of his home. He said the key had been left in the ignition of the green and white 1959 Plymouth station wagon.

Man Missing In Rowboat Since Mar. 27

Twenty-year-old John J. Hassett got into a rowboat in the Sausalito yacht harbor on March 27 and has not been seen since, his mother said today.

The mother, Mrs. Julia Mortimore of 5 Manor Terrace, Mill Valley, said, "I'm hoping he did some crazy thing that a boy would do and will still turn up."

She said she is checking boat owners in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor to see if anyone is missing a small boat possibly used by her son.

One of the last comments heard from Hassett, according to his brother, Daniel Hassett of Santa Clara, was "I might even row over to San Francisco."

Hassett's disappearance was reported Friday to San Francisco police and Saturday by his mother to Sausalito police. He had been living in San Francisco.

Mrs. Mortimore said her son had gone out for a sail with Chuck Hardiman of Sleepy Hollow and some other young men aboard Hardiman's 30-foot boat, Tenderly.

On return, due to motor trouble, they had some trouble berthing the craft Hassett jumped into a small boat and rowed along-

The Tenderly was tied up about 6 p.m., the rest of Hassett's companions deciding to get something to eat. They left Hassett on Pier Two and One-Half. When they returned about two hours later, he was gone.

Hassett has not shown up at his apartment nor at his job as maintenance man for Arneson's Products, San Rafael.

He was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and, during attendance there, lived in Mill Valley. He then attended University of California for one year. He was recently discharged from the Coast Guard after six month's service. He is five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds, and has light brown hair and blue eyes.

Restaurateur Will Matters Continued

Hearing on petition for probate of the will of Wyman Franklin (Bob) Campbell, restaurateur, was continued today in Marin Superior Court until next Monday.

HAMMARSKJOLD MEMORIAL

Redwoods Dedicated By Remote Control

"In memory of Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden. A disciple of peace, a great internationalist and humanitarian. A devoted and courageous servant of the United Nations who was killed in The Congo on the 18th day of September, 1961, while serving the United Nations and the cause of peace."

A redwood plaque with these words was unveiled yesterday at Muir Woods National Monument. The ceremony was to dedicate a grove of redwood trees to Hammarskjold—The grove being located near Pepperwood, Humboldt County. The event was held at Muir Woods to permit delegates of the Wilderness Conference being held in San Francisco to attend.

The plaque, unveiled by Newton Drury, secretary of the Save the Redwoods League, will be moved to the northern grove.

Arthur A. Volz, park ranger, estimated about 300 persons attended but added that eight bus loads of delegates never did show up and this made him and his colleagues unhappy.

"We made considerable arrangements," said Volz, "including having the California Highway Patrol and Marin County Sheriff's deputies here."

Clark Eichelberger, executive vice president of the United Nations Assn., took part in the ceremony.

The eight busloads visited the site proposed for Marincello, heard talks by Peter Whitney and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, and were delayed so long they abandoned the trip to Muir Woods.

College Honors Kent Benefactors For Gift Of Site

A plaque of dedication to the Kent family was unveiled yesterday at dedication of the College of Marin physical education complex.

The plaque thanks Mrs. Adaline E. Kent, her son, former Congressman William Kent, and his wife, Elizabeth T. Kent, for the original gift of land for the college campus in Kentfield in 1927.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy made the dedicatory speech at the ceremony. Joseph D. Gargiulo, vice chairman of the Marin Junior College District board was master of ceremonies, replacing chairman Robert E. Oliver, out of town at a conference.

The ceremony was followed by an open house and tour of the complex, which includes a gymnasium, two pools, classrooms and athletic instruction rooms.

Bike Accident Sends Child To Hospital

Eight-year-old Jimmy Villas, of 1411 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with face scrapes and cuts suffered when he fell from his bicycle yesterday.

Trustees will consider the various salary proposals at their meeting beginning at 8 p.m. at the district office on the Red-

Teen-Age Trio Held For Stealing Auto

Three 13-year-old Marin City youths and a companion, 14, from Menlo Park, were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall late yesterday for the alleged theft of an automobile from Irvin Johnson, 205 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Flood Control Money Is Recommende

The California Water Commission has recommended that Congress appropriate $800,000 for Corte Madera Creek flood control and $40,000 for Novato Creek.

The commission's recommendation for Corte Madera Creek is $620,000 more than has been included in the flood control and reclamation projects listing in the President's budget.

The commission recommended in all appropriations of $167,024,800 in fiscal 1966 for flood control, reclamation works and planning in California. This exceeds by $20 million the amount in the President's budget, Capitol News Service reported from Sacramento.

The recommendations are to be submitted to congressional committees.

Planners Ask Industry Zone Homes Curb

The Marin County Planning Commission today unanimously recommended that no homes be allowed in industrial zones and construction of homes be restricted in commercial zones.

The ordinance was protested by the Marin County Development Assn. and Attorney E. Warren Maguire, representing several land owners.

The protests hung mainly on the claim that the restriction would make it tough for owners of industrial land to hold it for ultimate development and would rule out selectivity of uses.

Carroll A. Snyker, executive director of the association, urged that an inventory of all industrial land be made and the industrial zone modernized before the commission recommends the "stop gap" ordinance.

San Anselmo Meeting Due On Slope Policy

San Anselmo Planning Commission will take up the city slope policy and a proposed architectural control ordinance at its meeting at 8 p.m. today at the City Hall.

The commission will also consider a request by builder Norman Gilroy for a change in a use permit allowing more units for the Loma Robles apartments on Red Hill Avenue.

Hub Candidates Night Advanced To Tuesday

A San Anselmo School District candidates' night set for Thursday has been rescheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at Isabel Cook School, Supt. Stephen Parodi announced today.

Out of every 10 barrels of petroleum delivered to refineries and terminals, three to four barrels travel by ocean-going tankers.

Terra Linda High's Band Shines In Fete

Terra Linda High School band was one of six groups receiving the highest rating possible at the instrumental music festival of the California Music Educators Assn. held in San Rafael Saturday.

Tamalpais High School band also received the top rating of "superior" on its regular performance, but received an "excellent" rating in sight reading.

Both groups are among those eligible to perform at a "command performance" of the state's top-rated bands May 8 at University of the Pacific in Stockton.

San Rafael City Schools music department was host for the day-long festival, which saw about 2,400 students performing in the high school section, conducted at San Rafael High School, and about 1,800 students in the elementary and junior high school sections, conducted at Terra Linda High School.

The students came from 65 schools in the Bay Area and formed 76 band and orchestral groups.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

FIRST AMERICAN BORN QUEEN

In elaborate ceremonies in remote Sikkim, the former Hope Cook of New York was crowned queen of the tiny state which lies between India and Tibet, while her husband, the Maharajkumar, yesterday was crowned successor to his late father, Sir Tashi Namgyal. The picture is of the couple's wedding ceremonies in 1963; it may be days before coronation photos reach a transmitting station. (AP Wirephoto)

War On Cancer: Study In Contrast

scientists and great physicians of our time and reporting their triumphs.

This has been a period of sharp contrasts — of fantastic progress in understanding life and of abysmal failure to protect life, of heroic medical achievements amid the decay of medicine generally, of the rise of geniuses and, too often, their suffocation in stagnant systems.

Cancer research is not entirely a matter of manpower, money and machines. Ultimately, it becomes a problem of transferring to sick humans the benefits derived from experiments.

Cancer research is in large measure a conflict of ideas, a desperate defense of the free and enquiring mind against the tyranny of professional conformity, mediocrity, materialism, mechanization and venality.

Only by appreciating the human weaknesses governing research and medicine can we hope to understand why cancer control is slow in coming.

A disease of civilization, cancer's toll has mounted relentlessly through recorded history. It kills 2.6 million people each year.

Cancer research is putting together a gigantic jigsaw puzzle. When the pieces finally are put together, we shall know how each man came into being, the chemistry of life, the distortions of disease and the irreversible reactions of death.

Laboratory advances are now being achieved so rapidly that no one can hope to keep current with the more significant discoveries. Someday this knowledge will be applied to medicine. Man may then have to find new things to die of, because in solving the cancer problem, science will have discovered, as by-products, the key to infections, hereditary, hormonal, and other ailments, and perhaps even a means of delaying for a while the disasters of old age.

It should be clear at the outset that some kinds of cancer are curable — much more so than the common cold which still is incurable by medical means.

To different authorities, cancer is variously a half smothered cell; a missing, extra or displaced gene; a distorted mucleic acid; a defective enzyme; an abnormal gland or unbalanced hormonal system; a dietary indiscretion; a virus in disguise; a weakened or corrupted immunity; over-worked emotions; an abused habit; an accident of birth; overexposure to a chemical or ray in our environment; a contaminating microbe; a cell which has learned the secret of eternal youth, or an inevitable consequence of the aging process.

But let us define cancer as a savage cell which somehow evades the laws of the body, corrupts the forces which normally protect, invades the well-ordered society of cells surrounding it, colonizes distant areas and, as a finale to its cannibalistic orgy of flesh consuming flesh, commits suicide by destroying its host.

Scientists have induced cancer in animals by many means—by mating, by infection, by radiation, by treatment or feeding with hundreds of chemicals, hormones and poisons. If normal cells are removed from the body and grown in tissue culture, one in every several thousand will develop into cancer when injected into an animal.

Has cancer's cold, hard grip on human destiny begun to relax? Perhaps — a little. More than one million cured cancer patients in the United States alone can attest to this.

What's more, the number and percentage of cures are rising slowly but steadily.

While almost all incurable cancers remain incurable still, ease and comfort have been given to most of these patients, and their useful lives have been lengthened, often without great pain.

New concepts of cancer and its treatment are emerging. It seems inevitable that some of these results someday will be applied clinically to prolong human life, relieve man of his pains and terrors, and enrich him with health and new degrees of productivity.

County's Tax Hinges On Bond Ballot Fate

County Administrator Alan Bruce today put a reservation on the prediction for a lower county tax rate next fiscal year.

Friday, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, after completing estimates of next year's assessed valuation, predicted the tax rate would be lower. He could not say how much

Bruce said today the tax rate would be lower only if the Civic Center bond issue is approved by voters on June 8. The board of supervisors is asking approval of $7.75 million in bonds to help construct the Hall of Justice addition on the Civic Center.

The county, already with 2 million dollars in reserve under a pay as you go program for the addition, would continue with pay-as-you-go financing if the bond issue should be defeated.

TAX FACTS

Disability Insurance Figures In

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Did you work for more than one employer in California during 1964 or have more than $51 deducted from your paychecks for Unemployment Disability Insurance Tax?

Peter J. Wikel

The maximum that can be deducted from your paycheck for Unemployment Disability Insurance in 1964 by any one employer is $51 If your employer deducted more than $51, you should apply to him for a refund.

If you had more than one employer in 1964, and earned more than $5,100, you had more than $51 deducted from your paychecks for Unemployment Disability Insurance and you are entitled to a refund of the difference.

You must claim this refund if you are to receive it. The claim must be filed before June 30, 1965.

Claims are filed with the California Department of Employment, Attention Accounting Section, 1025 P Street, Sacramento 14, California.

Claims must be filed on Form DE1964. These forms can be secured from your local office of the Department of Employment, or by writing to Sacramento.

Phil's Plumbing Ground Broken; Formica Executive Gets Award

Ground has been broken in the Northgate Industrial Park for a 8,900-square foot building to house Phil's Plumbing Co., which has been in business for the last 13 years at 2690 Redwood Highway.

The building, located at 123 Carlos Drive, was engineered by David E. Gibbs; contractor is Ronald Antonioli, Inc. Owner Phil Smith is also having another 7,000-square foot building put on an adjoining lot, with space to be leased. First one should be completed in June.

RICHARDSON BAY REAL ESTATE CO., Sausalito has changed its name to Polly McNaught, Realtor. Mrs. McNaught, who has been with the firm since it was established, bought it from Jack Richardson, who is still operating as an independent broker. Sales people associated with Mrs. McNaught are Mrs. Helen B. Kerr, Roger Saltmarsh and Jay Williar.

NOW THAT he is out of the Air Force, instead of returning to his father's ranch in Scottsdale, Ariz., young horseman David (Dink) Robart has gone to work for Douglas Hertz of the Atherton Club and Bolema Club. His job is picking up two-year-olds wherever he can find them in Northern California, bringing them in to the Bolema Club, between Olema and Bolinas, breaking and training them for eventual resale.

Of course, if an especially choice moving picture role comes along, he'll probably take time out. Robart was the subject of an I-J Marin Magazine article last February.

Power

ROBERT N. POWER of Novato, district manager for Formica Corp. in San Francisco, has received a "Golden Oval Award" from American Cyanamid Co. for an outstanding 1964 sales record. It's his second—the last was in 1960. He has been with Formica Corp. 11 years; covers Northern California and Nevada.

GOODMAN BUILDING SUPPLY STORES in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael and on the Redwood Highway, south of Alto have been added to the list of Marin dealers for Morgan Electronics to handle its electronically operated garage doors.

MRS. J. G. ENGLISH of Kentfield was the winner of the big prize—a color television set—at the recent opening of Hasting's in the Northgate Shopping Cente. It's probably a very popular addition to the English's home furnishings right now—they have five youngsters to scrap over the programs.

INSURANCE. Holly Smith of Corte Madera has been appointed Marin County general agent for General American Life Insurance, which he has represented for several years. He'll work out of 50 Corte Madera Center and 46 Kearny Street, San Francisco. He's now offering tax counseling books printed especially for doctors and dentists . . . Ten New York Life Marin field underwriters are attending a seminar on the effect of proposed tax changes on life insurance this week in Berkeley: Arthur Brody, William T. Brogan, Jack R. De Bruin, Donald P. Sands Jr., George A. Shannon, Edward R. Middendorf, John G. Wright, Lowell Zellers, Donald L. Mincey and Bernard R. Whitehill.

THAT SIDEWALK CLOCK on Lootens Place, San Rafael that has aggravated passersby for years with its own version of the time of day (sometimes correct two times a day) has been taken in protective custody by Royce Finance Plan, outside whose office it stands.

Royce assumed guardianship in self defense. The firm was getting all the blame for the chronometer's chronic lack of accuracy, so got permission from the Albert Estate to dress it up, put a sign on it—and keep it in proper working order (we hope).

Odds Drop On Ol' Sam For Masters Classic

Snead Romps To Win

By KEN ALYTA

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — "These young fellers," scoffed Sam Snead from the vantage point of some 52 years, "just aren't ready yet."

He didn't name any names — names like Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus, for example — and a broad smile creased his wrinkled old face after his victory in the $70,000 added Greensboro Open.

But the fabled and feared Slammin' Sam of another golfing era took definite note, in his joshing fashion, that this was the last warmup before the Masters, the biggest of them all.

"Those odds on me oughta go 'way down now," Sam observed. "Say from 20-1 to about 19-1."

The odds will be much lower on Palmer and Nicklaus, the co-favorites but old Sam, who will be after his fourth title must be given some consideration after his impressive, five-stroke triumph yesterday that made him the oldest man ever to win a PGA tourney. It was his eighth victory in the Greensboro event, sometimes called "The Sam Snead Open" since 1938. And he did it in a breeze.

By shooting sub-70 rounds four times, Snead posted a winning total of 273, five better than his three nearest pursuers — Billy Casper, Phil Rodgers and Jack McGowan.

Now he moves to Augusta, Ga., and the Masters starting Thursday, hoping "I keep putting like I have here and the rest of my game picks up a little."

By winning the $11,000 top prize he brought his earnings in 25 years here to more than $41,000.

Snead, opening with a three-under-par 68 for the 7,000-yard Sedgefield County Club course, followed with a 69 that gave him the co-lead with Bill Casper. On Saturday his 68 put him two shots in front of Labron Harris Jr. A final 68 yesterday completed the rout.

The turning point, as Snead pointed out, came on the 421-yard 13th. He drilled in a 60-foot putt that "looked from Japan to China" for a birdie 3. It gave him a three-shot pickup on Rodgers, who hit out of bounds and took a 6.

Snead birdied the next two holes and breezed home.

Rodgers, Casper and McGowan each won $4,733. Then came Harris in fifth place at 279 for $3,200.

British Open champion Tony Lema had a 67 finish for 280 and sixth place to win $2,900.

Bert Weaver clinched a Masters berth with a 281 total, a four-way tie for seventh place.

Gary Player shot 66 for a 283 finish. He tiel for 14th with Arnold Palmer, defending Masters champ who closed with 67, his fourth sub-70 round in five tournaments this year.

The sponsoring junior chamber of commerce boosted the purse $5,000 to $70,000 at midday when the size of the gallery warranted such a move.

A DAZZLING DISPLAY BY GIANT GLOVEMEN

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The San Francisco Giants sizzled behind Jack Sanford yesterday and the hustling field work backed up the comeback right-hander's 6-0 shutout victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Sanford, a former 24-game winner, was operated on during the winter to repair a circulatory ailment in his right arm. He scattered five singles, hurled seven innings and relished the quick defense work of his teammates.

Hal Lanier was the Giants' pivot man on two of three double plays and was dazzling on the infield. Jose Pagan, Jim Ray Hart, Willie McCovey and Sanford also sparkled with the glove.

San Francisco hit only five singles, but they all counted and the Giants took advantage of a defensive lapse in the fifth to score four runs off Angel pitcher Fred Newman. The San Franciscans then got two runs off Cy Young Award winner Dean Chance in the eighth.

Willie Mays smashed a line drive and hit Chance in the back of his right leg. Manager Bill Rigney pulled Chance, 20-9 last year.

"This was nothing," the right-hander said. "I don't know why I was taken out. I wanted to stay in there and pitch."

Chance faced only three batters before being hit by Mays' blast.

Newman was the loser and contributed to his own defeat with an error in the fifth. Julio Gotay also bobbled the ball and singles by McCovey and Tom Haller scored four runs.

A walk, a fielder's choice and singles by Lanier, Mays and Jesus Alou accounted for the two runs against Chance.

A Look At The 'New' Giants: Togetherness And Spirit

(First of three parts on the Giant outlook for 1965)

CONNOLLY

You have to be a real optimist to say the Giants can win the 1965 National League pennant. Off their record last season they don't rate quite that high. Watching them in spring training you find them completely relaxed. They display a togetherness of spirit that was lacking in 1964. Blame that new team spirit on the new manager Herman Franks.

We find the new Giant boss breezy, witty, courteous, but demanding on honest effort by all members of his team.

"Managing a major league ball club is not a one man job. I can't do it alone. I need the help of my coaches and my players," is the way Manager Franks talked to us in Arizona.

Already the Giant skipper seems to have instilled in his players a sort of pennant fever for 1965.

"To win the pennant I have to expect a great comeback by most of the playes who had bad health or had off-years in 1964," explains the pudgy S.F. pilot.

"THE GIANTS, in their own way, are a daring ball club and, as such, are susceptible to injury," Franks states. "The team that escapes serious injuries to key players is hard to beat. A ball club that takes unnecessary chances and suffers injuries is a dumb ball club, not exactly a daring club. I expect my coaches and my players to take no unnecessary risks, unless the risks are absolutely needed."

Franks isn't a make-believe guy. He talks honestly but frankly when he says, "How can you call a ball club with one .300 batter a power outfit?

"WE HAVE to play ball a lot smarter than we did last year," Herman declares. "I'm conscious of the fact we were only 50 per cent healthy. And that usually makes for a nightmare year.

"Off years sometimes provide a silver lining in the clouds for teams. They learn they've had players not being used who suddenly came alive and proved their true mettle. I think that in 1964 we learned we had players on our bench who got the opportunity to play and now as they go back to work find themselves making good in a big way."

APPARENTLY THE Giant skipper was thinking of how an injury to Jack Sanford gave Gaylord Perry, a relief pitcher, the chance he needed to discover he was fit to be in the big tent.

Bob Bolin is another hurler the Giant skipper raves about. This spring Bob looks to have gained the pin point control he lacked in 1964 and so far he is rated a number one chance to be a regular starting pitcher.

Ron Herbel, another youngster who moved into the starting role last year arrived fast and is carrying on in 1965 just like he wound up the season in 1964.

BOB HENDLEY, the only recognized southpaw likely to be in the starting pitching group, is also coming along nicely.

"There is nothing wrong with Hendley that a little luck won't cure," says Franks. "He was jinxed last season but his dobber isn't down. He looks to me like he is in for a good year."

In outlining his plans for the coming season the Giant pilot is truth personified.

"PITCHING HAS to be your ace in the hole to get a pennant. And with four or five good healthy starters and three or four top flight relief pitchers, like we have right now, it is my job to arrange this group in the fashion that keeps 'em winning," explains Herman.

"I look for Juan Marichal, Gaylord Perry, Bob Bolin, Bob Hendley, Jack Sanford and Bob Shaw to be my front line throwers, not necessarily in that order but no matter what way you shuffle 'em around, they look awfully good to me."

WEDNESDAY: The lineup is set.

New Basketball Gym At Stanford

STANFORD (UPI) — Stanford University will have a new basketball pavilion by December of 1967, according to Athletic Director Chuck Taylor.

He said that construction on the $2.5 million structure will begin this December. He said it will have an 8,000 seating capacity—more than double the capacity of the present Stanford Pavillion.

Padres Score Upset

San Rafael Padres kept the Western Professional Bowling League alive yesterday when they edged the league-leading Carmichael Colts 12½ to 11½ at Country Club Bowl, the Pads' home lanes.

The Colts are leading the league with an 8½ and 4½ record with only one week to go. Fremont is second, 7½ and 5½ and San Rafael is third, 7 and 6.

Ron Lisher again topped the San Rafael bowlers with an 818 four-game series on games of 211, 222, 218 and 167. Dick Treadway was next with 210-189-181-221—801. Leading the Colts was Don Bickford, 183-192-199-213-230—1,017.

After treatment at a Truckee hospital, Fitzhenry returned to Marin yesterday.

Marin Sweeps Pair

College of Marin's baseballers swept a doubleheader from the Yuba 49ers Saturday at Redwood High School, 6-4 and 16-6.

The games originally were scheduled for Albert Field in San Rafael but switched to Larkspur because of the soggy condition of the Albert turf.

Marin centerfielder John Odetto blasted two home runs in the opener, in the first and fifth innings, each time with teammate Denny Thorne on base. "That second homer must have traveled 410 feet," said Marin coach Ed Grimm.

First baseman Fred Mack also blasted a round-tripper.

Jim Schmidt started on the mound in that first game but didn't get too far. He loaded the bases on walks after getting only one man out. Grimm yanked Schmidt and sent in Jim Timmel who finished up to earn the victory. All four Yuba runs were scored on errors as the Tars committed a total of five miscues.

Other extra base hits in the first game were doubles by Joe Hebel and Roger Schlect. Hebel had 3 for 4, Odetto 2 for 4, Mack 2 for 4, Schlect 2 for 2, Thorne 1 for 4, Tom Corbett 1 for 4 and Frank Dittle 1 for 4.

In the seven-inning nightcap, Odetto smashed a double and single in four trips to the plate to give him a total of four hits in eight at bats on the day. Bill Brody had 2 for 4, including a double; Dennis Gerughty had 2 for 3; Abballo had 2 for 4, and Schlect had 3 for 5 to give him 5 for 7 on the day. Mike Young, Frank Dittle, Stefen Garroway and pitcher Dave Perlis each had a single. Perlis went all the way for the win.

The twin win left Marin with a 3-1 record in Golden Valley Conference action. Shasta and Santa Rosa are 2-0, Siskiyous is 1-1, Yuba is 0-2, Napa 0-4 and Sierra has yet to play any games.

Jack Daniel was a proud man. He was proud of the Hollow and his whiskey and the medals it won. We're proud of the same things—and of Mr. Jack. That's why Lem Motlow had this statue made. MASTERS: KEN AND BEN BATTLE AGAINST ODDS

Venturi Is Up Against Private Jinx

By DAVID M. MOFFIT

AUGUSTA, Ga., (UPI) —U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi is battling a private jinx.

Until he dramatically overcame fatigue in the blistering heat to capture the Open last summer, Venturi had run into a four-year dry spell that appeared about to end his career as a touring professional golfer.

The Open victory opened new avenues for the 33-year-old Californian, including an automatic 10-year invitation to play in the $130,000 Masters which begins Thursday.

KEN VENTURI
Private jinx

So what happens? Venturi developed circulatory trouble in his hands and despite a gallant effort to overcome the problem, goes into the Masters with the realization that it would take tremendous fortitude to stay in the running with the rest of the world's best golfers.

However, the lanky Venturi is not discouraged. "Sure, it's giving me some trouble now," he said during pre-Masters practice sessions. "But I'm determined to lick this thing."

FIGHTING ODDS

Venturi has been fighting the odds for years. He was one of the hottest young golfers on the pro circuit in the first four years after he turned professional in 1956. He hit his financial peak in 1960 when he won more than $41,000 but then went into his decline — winning less than $7,000 in 1962 and less than $4,000 in 1963.

Last year's U. S. Open, when he needed medical care before going out for the second half of the long 36-hole final day, appeared to be a turning point. But now there's that circulatory trouble and Venturi could well be back where he was before the Open.

Less than half of the 93 Masters entries were on hand for the first official practice round Sunday. Most of the others were at the greater Greensboro (N.C.) Open where 52-year-old Sam Snead, a three-time Masters champion, turned in an 11-under-par 273 to win that tournament for the eighth time.

Hogan Rated A Threat In Golf Classic

By MILTON RICHMAN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Ben Hogan's putter finally has come around to the point where some early Masters arrivals insisted yesterday the one-time terror of the fairways again must be rated a chance.

"It would be only a longshot one," confessed the 52-year-old two-time winner of this prestige golf event which officially gets underway Thursday, "but I feel I have a chance.

"For the first time in a long while I'm starting to see some daylight on the greens. That's encouraging to me but I'm not at all satisfied with the rest of my game. I'm just not hitting the ball well."

The touring pros will tell you Hogan still is the equal of anyone, and they emphasize the word anyone, from tee to green. The only reason he was missing from the winner's circle for the past few years, they add, was because he simply couldn't putt.

Being the inordinately proud individual he is, Hogan shied away from the tour rather than finish among the far back also-rans.

He once said he never would think of entering any tournament he didn't think he could win and as far as he 's concerned, it still goes.

COLD-STEEL TONE

"If I didn't feel I had a chance to win here, I wouldn't have bothered coming in the first place," he said, in that cold-steel tone he made famous when he ruled the golfing roost. "I had hoped for more work before I got here but the weather was so bad back home in Texas that I couldn't get in much golf."

Hogan won his first Masters' title in 1951 and his second in 1953 with a 72-hole total of 274 strokes which still stands as an all-time record. He also finished second four times, including twice in playoffs.

"I've been here a week already but I've only been able to play the course three times because of the weather," he said.

"It's very wet and it's playing awfully long. On a slow course like this there are 12 holes where my drives are coming to rest on hills. If I can carry 10 or 15 yards farther, I'd be able to be three clubs shorter. Maybe the course will be faster by Thursday."

Hogan can still stay with the longest hitters on the tour although it's far more of an effort for him at 52 than it was at 42.

Bucks Take Lead In Playoffs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Portland Buckaroos and the Seattle Totems, who finished first and second in the regular Western Hockey League season, are holding an edge over their opponents in the semi-final playoffs.

The Bucks grabbed a 2-1 advantage in their best-of-seven series with third-place Vancouver yesterday by downing the Canucks, 4-3, in overtime.

Gerry Goyer slapped home the clincher, his second goal of the night, at 8:32 of the overtime period. Andy Hebenton also had two goals for Portland.

Buddy Boone and Ron Mathews got the Canucks off to a 2-0 lead, and Phil Maloney tied it up after the Bucks moved ahead with three straight goals.

The Seattle club, which jumped off to a pair of quick wins over fourth-place Victoria, suffered a 5-2 defeat at the hands of the Maple Leafs Saturday. The Totems now hold a 2-1 advantage.

Howe Paces Detroit To 2-0 Edge

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe, with 133 playoff games behind him, proved again last night why National Hockey League coaches go with veterans in Stanley Cup play.

Howe, 37-year-old backbone of the Detroit Red Wings, rammed in two fast goals on Chicago rookie goalie Denis DeJordy and sparked the Wings to a 6-3 rout of the Black Hawks in the second game of their best-of-7 semi-final cup series.

Howe's 58th and 59th Stanley Cup goals combined with power play scoring by Norm Ullman and Eddie Joyal gave Detroit a 2-0 lead in the series which moves to Chicago Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Detroit's scoring spree dimmed another excellent performance by the Hawks' Bobby Hull.

Hull matched Howe with two-third-period goals but the Hawks were unable to match the Wings' power plays.

Terra Lindan Is North Cal Champ

Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Terra Linda is the Northern California women's golf champion, and not Mrs. John Cann of San Anselmo as was reported in Wednesday's as wes reported in last Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

Mrs. Bowman's husband corrected the I-J, and added that both women will be competing in the 1965 championship tournament of the Women's Golf Assn. of California this week. He said the two women would be traveling together and staying together. But to give credit where it is due, Mrs. Bowman is the champ.

Mrs. Cann is a member of the Meadow Club in Fairfax and Mrs. Bowman is a member of the Richmond Golf Club. The state tournament is scheduled being played at the Bel Air Country Club, Los Angeles.

JUNIOR BASEBALL

ELGIN BAYLOR
Knee surgery

Baylor's Future Uncertain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor, No. 1 forward of the Los Angeles Lakers, was reported resting comfortably today after doctors removed part of his left kneecap, torn in a freak accident Saturday night.

The injury will prevent Baylor from helping his team in the post-season playoffs, a hospital spokesman said, but if the knee responds to therapy, he may be in the lineup next season.

An orthopedic specialist said the Lakers' over-2,000-point man would be hospitalized for about a week and then wear a cast for a month.

"Every effort will be made to rehabilitate the knee for his return to the Lakers next season," Dr. Robert Kerlan said.

Saturday, four minutes into the first game of a seven-game playoff series with Baltimore, Baylor leaped into the air for one of his deadly jump shots. Suddenly he dropped to the floor in pain and limped from the game.

The next afternoon doctors removed the uppermost layer of fibrous matter of his kneecap and a tendon attached to it.

"The doctor told me that it was a freak injury," Baylor explained. "The top part of the kneecap just pulled away from the rest of it."

The injury apparently had nothing to do with other knee trouble that has plagued the 6-5, 230-pound veteran, Kerlan said.

Long a victim of calcium deposits of the knees, Baylor was not about to despair over a torn kneecap.

"It's just one of those things," he said from his hospital bed. "But I felt we were ready to win the whole thing this year. Maybe they can do it anyhow."

Even without Baylor, the Lakers managed to defeat Baltimore 121-115, thanks to a 49-point performance by all-pro guard Jerry West.

West was set to start for Los Angels in tonight's rematch. The winner of the Baltimore-Los Angeles series takes the Western Division playoff crown and meets the victor of a similar Boston-Philadelphia series in the National Basketball Assn. final playoffs.

EXHIBITION ROUNDUP

Reds' Robby Is Red Hot; Set For Big, BIG Year

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Like Bill Russell, who was a high school basketball teammate back in Oakland, Calif., Frank Robinson is the "big man" on his team.

Robinson's team happens to be the Cincinnati Reds, who finished only a game behind the St. Louis Cardinals in the frantic National League pennant race last year despite an "average" season by their outfielder.

Robby's hitting in 1964 was, of course, average only by his own standards. He batted .306 with 29 home runs and 96 runs batted in, a considerable output for anyone. But the 29-year-old Robinson can do better, and down in Tampa, Fla., they think this is going to be one of Frank's big years, which naturally means a big year for the Reds.

The 6-foot-1, 187-pound flychaser rapped his fifth home run of the spring and drove in three runs yesterday as Cincinnati whipped the Detroit Tigers, 7-3. Since Robby's hitting usually is the key to the Reds' attack, it's not surprising that the team has compiled a 17-6 record to date, the top mark in the Grapefruit League.

Robinson, whose five homers rank him second only to Tony Coniglario of the Boston Red Sox among the spring swatters, had had to share the club spotlight with southpaw Jim O'Toole whose victory yesterday was his fourth against no defeats.

Tommy Davis, who is tied with Robinson at five homers apiece, continued his clutch hitting by driving in two runs in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 8-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Davis, a two-time National League batting champion, now has a total of 26 RBI's in 21 games.

Dick Groat singled and tripled in a 10-run fourth-inning assault by the Cards, who romped to a 14-1 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics. Groat had three hits, as did Lou Brock, and Mike Shannon clouted a three-run homer for St. Louis, which capitalized on three errors by A's shortstop Bert Campaneris.

Veteran righthanders Dick Donovan of the Cleveland Indians and Jack Sanford of the San Francisco Giants both worked impressive stints against the Los Angeles Angels, who were divided into two squads.

Donovan surrendered only two hits and no runs in 7 1-3 innings as the Tribe lashed the Angels 7-1, but reliever Ted Abernathy got credit for the victory when Cleveland erupted for six runs in the eighth inning.

Sanford shut out Los Angeles for seven innings in a 6-0 Giant victory. Dean Chance, the Angels' Cy Young award winner last year, was hit by a line drive for the second time this year. He was hit on the back of the knee by a shot off the bat of Willie Mays, but was only bruised and will not miss any training.

Elsewhere, Cookie Rojas' third hit of the game, a 10th inning single, scored Tony Gonzalez from third and gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 conquest of the Baltimore Orioles. . . .Tony Cloninger became the first Milwaukee pitcher to go the full nine innings as the Braves defeated Houston 3-1 behind Eddie Mathews' two run-scoring singles and a solo homer by Felipe Alou . . . And veteran Ron Kline shut off a Yankee rally in the eighth inning and held New York in the ninth to preserve a 4-3 win for the Washington Senators in the second of a two-game series in Puerto Rico.

Ossie Virgil slammed a three-run homer with one out in the 10th inning to provide the Pittsburgh Pirates with a 9-8 victory over the New York Mets, who had tied the game with three runs in the ninth and taken the lead with a pair in the top of the 10th . . . And the usually power-happy Twins were held to just four hits by three young Minnesota farmhands and old pro Art Fowler and succumbed meekly to Denver of the Pacific Coast League, 4-0.

Builders In 8-2 Victory

Chalking up their 12th win in their last 13 games, the Billings-Hutchison Builders of San Rafael yesterday whipped the Hatzell Radio team 8-2. The game was switched from wet Albert Field to San Rafael High School.

The Builders semi-pro baseballers broke up a tight game in the fourth inning with six runs. Dave Hughes, Builder righthander, started and pitched the first four innings, striking out three, and allowing two hits and one run. Skip Rush and Larry Calof finished up. Rush allowed one hit and one run and Calof gave up two hits and no runs.

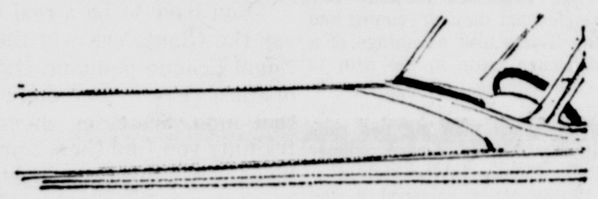

Vince Pallavicini and John Brookman led the Builders attack, collecting five of the team's nine hits between them. Pallavicini had two singles and a double, driving in three runs and scoring one. Brookman rapped two singles, knocked in two runs and scored twice himself.

CAGE WAR: CELTICS, RUSSELL CLOUT 76ERS AND BIG WILT

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — "War is hell, no matter how it's fought," said Bill Russell, the sweat of the first battle still glistening on his forehead. His war is named Wilt Chamberlain.

Boston's playoff perennials had just beaten Philadelphia 108-98 yesterday in the National Basketball Association Eastern Division finals. The Celtics did it with their trademark defense and hot cornermen.

Capt. Russell, however, was stating a general sentiment that the giant shadow the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain casts across this best-of-7 series spells a long, fierce struggle.

The second game is in Philadelphia Tuesday night.

"Every game against Chamberlain is three days' work," Russell said. "He's always been so tough to play there's no talking about degrees."

While Russell fought Wilt to a standoff on the backboards, Chamberlain scored 33 points, had 31 rebounds and three assists. Russell's figures were 11, 32 and six.

Boston's veteran cornerman, Tom Heinsohn, led the winners with 23 points. Counting John Havlicek, who played more up front than in the backcourt, the Celtics' forwards outscored their Philadelphia counterparts 60-29.

"We played good defense, that's the only way you can win after a long layoff," said Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "It was a team victory, a great game for coming in after being idle so long. We scored even more than I figured.

"The 76ers are so tough it's ridiculous. They're so big and they don't quit.

"I thought it was one of Wilt's best games ever.

"It was a case of their cornermen doing a better job than our cornermen," said Philadelpia Coach Dolph Schayes. "Heinsohn again proved he's a great playoff player. This was the best game he played all year that I saw.

"We simply played too cautious. No excuses. We did not hit the open man. And we didn't move as fast as we usually do nor were we getting good shots.

"I thought Wilt outplayed Russell. They both played well."

Chamberlain sat disconsolate, both cheeks coated with salve where he was cut in rebound action. When approached by newsmen, Wilt said: "Get lost, man."

"They hack pretty good in there," Schayes said. "The Celtics foul Wilt any way they can and get away with it."

Celtics' playmaker K.C. Jones discussed team strategy to weaken Chamberlain's effectiveness. "The main thing is that Heinsohn and Tom Sanders block out," said K.C. "We have enough trouble with Wilt. We can't afford to have any of their other guys charging in there.

"This game was won right there. That's where it will continue to be won."

"We'll be ready," said Schayes of the future. "We'll win at Philadelphia Tuesday night. There's no doubt about that."

"It'll be like going into a lion's den down there in Philly," said Auerbach. "It's going to be brutal."

Swimming 'Barrier' Is Busted

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Track had its Roger Bannister. Swimming has Steve Clark.

Clark is the first man to swim the 100-yard freestyle in less than 46 seconds. His feat roughly is comparable, in psychological as well as physical terms, to Bannister's breaking of the 4-minute barrier in the mile run.

Clark, who brought back three gold medals from last year's Olympic Games, sped to a :45.6 century victory at the National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships Saturday at the Yale pool.

The listed record is 46.5 held by Steve Jackman of Minnesota.

Three other American records were bettered during the three-day meet.

Roy Saari of the champion Southern California team won the 200-yard individual medley in 1:56.2. The listed mark is 1:58.2 held by Dick Roth.

H. Thompson Mann of the runner-up North Carolina A.C. team won the 200-yard backstroke in 52.5 seconds, lowering the record of :53.1 set by Bob Bennett of Southern Cal.

And Carl Robie of Michigan won the 500-yard freestyle in 4:44.1 to improve on Don Schollander's 4:44.5.

Saari, Mann and Robie each won two events and Sarri was the top individual point-getter with 19.

Saari successfully defended his AAU 1,650-yard butterfly title; Mann won the 100-yard backstroke; and Robie won the 200-yard butterfly.

Southern Cal far outdistanced North Carolina A.C. in the team totals, 74 to 47. Next came the Yale freshmen with 25 points and behind them, their varsity brethern with 21.

Schollander led the Yale frosh with a victory in the 200-yard freestyle, in which he was the defending AAU champion.

Other champions crowned during the meet:

100-yard breaststroke — Paul Scheerer, Michigan.

200-yard breaststroke — Ken Merten, Los Angeles, A.C.

100-yard butterfly — Luis Nicolao, Santa Clara A.C.

One-meter dive — Ken Sitzberger, Indiana.

Three-meter dive — Rick Gilbert, Indiana.

400-yard freestyle relay — Southern Cal.

400-yard medley relay — Southern Cal.

Hole-In-One

John Reininger, a member of the Peacock Gap Country Club, aced the 130-yard 10th hole Saturday at the San Rafael course.

Witnessing the feat, made with a 7 iron, were Jack Roth and Fran Gostisha.

Zeno Was 'Courting' His Gal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Larry Zeno, former star quarterback for UCLA and presently signed with the Dallas Cowboys of the American Football League as a kicking specialist, was free on bail today after being booked on suspicion of burglary.

Police suspect Zeno of being responsible for several burglaries in the West Los Angeles area where they arrested him Friday night. Zeno says he happened into the wrong backyard trying to get to his girl friend's house.

"I just got an impulse to see my girl friend Friday night," Zeno explained yesterday. "I didn't want to drive around the front because it was late—so I tried to go through the back.

"I didn't know how to get there exactly and I got in the wrong back yard. This fellow saw me and I got scared and ran."

Police arrested him two blocks from the house.

The girl, Kim Higgins, 18, a freshman at UCLA, who lives next door to where Zeno was seen, confirmed that she has been dating Zeno.

"Larry and I have been dating for about four months," Miss Higgins said. "He comes here frequently. I don't doubt that what happened is exactly as he explained it."

Zeno was held overnight and released late Saturday on $550 bail. He will be arraigned Wednesday.

Officers said he matches the general description of a suspect in three burglaries in the area and that when they found him, his clothes were streaked with mud.

COLLEGE SCENE

A Weird Season On West Tracks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This shapes up as one of the weirdest and best track and field seasons in Pacific Coast history. Since Pacific Coast schools have won the NCAA championships the past four years, this has significance.

For instance, Southern California, the New York Yankees of college track and field, took its first dual meet loss since 1962 and only its third in 25 years last Saturday at Albuquerque as the New Mexico Lobos thrashed the Trojans 98 1-3 to 46 2-3.

Oregon, last year's NCAA titlists, finished second in a triangular meet to San Jose State, the second-place 1964 NCAA team, 74-68½. California picked up 38½ points in its home opener on the refurbished track on which the 1965 NCAA championships will be staged.

Stanford must stay in Los Angeles to meet UCLA tomorrow because their Saturday meet got rained out. Stanford could have the strongest team on the coast and gets another test Saturday at home against USC.

The Trojans failed to win one running event against New Mexico as their middle and long distance men turned in times far slower than normal. The altitude could have had something to do with it.

"New Mexico has a great track team," USC coach Vern Wolfe said, "better than most people realize."

Great as New Mexico appeared, the Lobos will have trouble winning the NCAA meet since many of their stars are freshmen, ineligible for the big test in June.

In good shape is San Jose, despite its earlier-season loss to Stanford.

Long-legged Spartan sophomore Tom Smith set a meet record in the 220 yard dash with a 20.6 around a turn and anchored the mile relay team that finished second to California in the day's last event.

But the second place was all the Spartans needed to edge Oregon. California's mile relay quartet, with the same personnel who won the event in the 1964 NCAA meet, finished first in 3:09.1, a meet record.

In all, nine meet records were established and one tied. Included among these was an 8:58.0 two-mile by Oregon junior Ken Moore who captured a rare distance double by also taking the mile in 4:08.8 with something to spare.

Another triangular meet goes on the new Edwards Stadium track next Saturday with Brigham Young and Oregon State visiting California.

As an added note, times this post-Olympic year have been faster than usual at this point in the season.

Warrant For Boyer In Brawl

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A warrant was to be served today on Cletus Boyer, New York Yankees' third baseman, charging him with assault and battery in the barroom beating of a male model, police reported.

Jerome Modzelewski, 25-year-old model, swore out the warrant Saturday but Boyer was in Puerto Rico with the Yankees during the weekend.

Modzelewski signed a warrant Thursday night against Roger Maris, Yankee outfielder, charging him with assault and battery during the hassle early Thursday. Maris said he was merely trying to break up the fight.

Police said Boyer denied being involved in the fight but Robert J. Burns, 46, signed a statement saying he saw Boyer throw a punch at Modzelewski over the shoulder of Nick J. Sindicich, bar owner who was attempting to break up the fight.

Burns said Sindicich was restraining Modzelewski who, according to Burns, was offering no resistance, when Boyer shouted "mind your own business" and hit the model in the mouth.

Sindicich said he didn't see who threw the punch that split Modzelewski's lip because it came from behind him.

Modzelewski said he took exception to obscenities directed at him and a date as they left the bar. He said two men beat him after he demanded an apology, and identified one of them as Maris.

Johnny Keane, manager of the Yankees, said Joe DiMaggio and pitcher Hal Reniff also were in the bar when the fight started.

A hearing for Maris and Boyer is scheduled Tuesday in municipal court.

Added Stakes Events On G.G. Program This Week

ALBANY (AP) — Two added stakes events are on this week's schedule at Golden Gate Fields —the $10,000 Golden Gate Sorority on Wednesday and the $15,000 Sacramento Handicap on Saturday.

The Wednesday event, exclusively for 3-year-old fillies, is expected to see Admirably make her initial start of the spring meeting.

Winner of all six of her starts as a 2-yearo-ld, Admirably won her last race at Santa Anita on March 4 by dashing the three quarters of a mile in 1:09 2-5.

Also scheduled to see action in the mid-week headliner is Bushy Bunnie, winner of both her local starts, Royal Khal, Miss Khal, Pizzicato, Mine Lovely, Queen Hostess, Mamalo, Madoo, Song Leader, Casy's Honey and Orbit's Belle.

Others to push the two rivals in Saturday's run are Private Charter, Real Luck, Mangayte, Fachendon, Honored Sir, Ramant, Calgary Brook, Pelegrn. Upper Half, Doctor Spark and Stargazer.

Nasharco, 3-year-old son of Nashville, and Carpenter's Rule won the two divisions of the California Derby Trial Saturday.

TAUGHT AT 30 GM TRAINING CENTERS...

BODY WORK FROM AN EXPERT'S POINT OF VIEW
There's much more to body work than meets the eye. That's why GM dealers send their body shop technicians to specialized classes at the 30 GM Training Centers across the nation. There, in small groups, they get individual attention on the "anatomy" of your GM car or truck. Courses focus on the important details of quality workmanship, the thoroughness of a job well done. Painting, welding, sheet metal repair, glass replacement, frame alignment—all the body shop skills are covered by professional instructors. From your point of view, Guardian Maintenance body service is a wise investment for your General Motors car or truck.

One Battle In Sight For Education Board

There are four seats open on the Marin County Board of Education but only one battle in the April 20 election.

Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., pastor of the Village Baptist Church, Marin City, and Glen E. Robinson, of 309 Ferndale Avenue, Homestead Valley, a U.S. deputy marshal, are both running for the same seat.

They are seeking to represent Trustee Area 5, which covers Sausalito and Mill Valley School districts.

Three incumbents, Mrs. Edith Kanoff of Novato, Patrick Pollock of San Anselmo and Arnold Dolcini Jr. are running unopposed in the other three trustee areas which elect county board members this year.

Board president Robert G. Randolph of Mill Valley is not seeking re-election.

The opposing candidates and their views are:

SAMUEL LEON BANKS JR., 37, who lives at 59 Cole Drive, Marin City, has been active in that community for more than 12 years.

He was supervisor of the Marin City Hi-Y Boys, a YMCA group, when it was organized in 1952. He was elected to the Marin City Tenants Council and was chairman of the United Crusade in Marin City in 1961, and is a member of the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

His most recent achievement was the founding a self-help organization entitled American Negro Enterprise.

A native of Magnolia, Ark, Banks attended Vallejo Junior College and then transferred to the College of Marin where he was graduated in 1948. He received his bachelor's degree from San Francisco Baptist College in 1952.

During World War II, he served as a seaman first class aboard the carrier Lexington, part of the time in the Pacific.

Regarding unification, Banks said he is for a single district in the Tamalpais High School District attendance area.

He said he will oppose any bond or tax measures until the unification question is settled.

SAMUEL L. BANKS JR.
Marin City leader

GLEN E. ROBINSON
Former star athlete

"I shall encourage redevelopment at Marin City whenever greater school tax dollars will become available," he said. "I would like to see Richardson Bay explored for oil as a tax source."

GLEN E. ROBINSON, 33, was the first Negro to be appointed a U.S. deputy marshal in San Francisco.

Robinson served as recreation director of Marin City in 1958, heading a physical fitness program for 560 children and adults. He was an outstanding athlete at Tamalpais High School and College of Marin, winning the John F. Peters award for his athletic leadership at the college in 1951.

A native of Austin, Tex., he lived in Marin City before moving to Homestead Valley in 1962.

Robinson said his interest is in every phase of the county's educational system where the county superintendent's office and the county board have responsibility.

He said, however, that he has a special interest in educational programs for the physically and mentally handicapped, the men at San Quentin Prison, the culturally disadvantaged, the rural areas, and the outdoor educational programs.

THAT ALOHA SPIRIT

Hawaii Legislator Scores Hit

By CLIFF SESSIONS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Politics can be more interesting with sex appeal added.

Which helps to explain why the new representative from Hawaii is provoking so much public interest while most freshmen congressmen are virtually ignored outside their home districts.

The Hawaiian newcomer is Patsy Takemoto Mink, 37, a petite and attractive Japanese-American who would fit well into one of those Waikiki Beach travel-poster scenes.

THE ONLY woman to join Congress this year and the first female of Oriental ancestry ever elected to Congress, Mrs. Mink is also a scholar, an effective public speaker, an interesting conversationalist, a good campaigner and hard-working legislator.

"She has already demonstrated to our entire satisfaction that a young lady can successfully combine the unlikely qualities of beauty and legislative ability," Speaker John W. McCormack told the House recently.

HER COMBINATION of attributes has drawn the attention of the nation's news media and Mrs. Mink has been featured on scores of broadcasts and in several articles. She danced the hula in a Life magazine picture and had her occupation guessed on "What's My Line." Speaking invitations pour into her office and she accepts many of them.

Mrs. Mink is a liberal Democrat. She says she is attempting to utilize the public eye to tell mainlanders of Hawaii and "the spirit of aloha." She feels that Hawaii offers a good example of race-relations for the rest of the nation to emulate.

"I never knew a person's race to be considered until I came to the mainland," she says. "If every American could visit Hawaii, it would help."

A NATIVE of the Hawaiian island of Maui, Mrs. Mink feels strongly that Japanese - Americans, having gained their place in U.S. society, should actively support the Negro's civil rights drive.

"As the beneficiaries of those advances which have opened the doors of life to us, we must be in the forefront of efforts to open the doors for others," she recently told a Japanese-American Citizens League from Philadelphia.

Her chief legislative efforts have been in the field of education. A graduate of the University of Hawaii and the University of Chicago's Law School, Mrs. Mink is a former lecturer at the University of Hawaii and a former chairman of the Hawaii State Senate's Education Committee.

She was appointed, upon request, to the House Education Committee where she is boosting President Johnson's billion dollar aid-to-education program as a step in the right direction. Bills she has introduced would set up a federally-financed sabbatical leave system for teachers and grant an additional income tax exemption for working students.

REP. PATSY MINK

MOST OF HER public speeches include strong pleas for increased federal aid for education. She says that Japanese-Americans found education to be "the best route to equality and social justice" and feels that "education is really the key to most of our problems in the nation and the world."

Mrs. Mink believes that more women should become active in politics. But she is not regarded as a feminist. She opposes suggestions that an additional vice-presidency be created for women. Females, she says, should compete on equal terms with males.

FLASHING THE slogan, "Think Mink," she won surprising primary and general election victories over male opponents last year, with much help from her husband, Pennsylvania - born John F. Mink, a hydrologist, and some from their 13-year-old daughter, Gwendolyn.

Both accompanied Mrs. Mink to Washington where Mink not only practices his trade but serves as a top aide and adviser to Representative Mink.

MRS. MINK seems a little overwhelmed by so much public attention—"I was quite surprised and pleased to make so many friends so quickly," she says—but she is taking it in stride smoothly.

That she is not uncomfortable in the limelight is indicated by an already-made decision to seek re-election next year.

St. Sylvester's Plans Fashions, Dessert-Bridge

A dessert-bridge and fashion show will be sponsored by St. Sylvester's Guild on April 21 at 12:30 p.m. at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Wade Acton, guild president, has appointed Mrs. Victor Scatena chairman, and she is being assisted by Mesdames William Simmons, reservations; Harry Fialer, decorations; James Bowler, models, and William McCarthy, awards.

Modeling clothes will be Mesdames Ralph Bernhardt, Charles Spongberg, Daniel Coleman, Frank Prince, Charles Hoffman, William Manca, Luciano Sabella and Terrence McGuire.

All proceeds will benefit the parish building fund.

Marin Women

NORTH MARIN women of the six organizations involved in the annual bazaar worked both days during the sale, as shown here by the Novato Garden Club members who prepared the succulents in containers for the two day event. Other groups involved were the Rainbow Mothers Club of Novato, Donald V. Westlund Auxiliary 7816, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Sylvan Circle of Druids 115, Novato Jaycettes and DeMolay Mothers Club. The garden club will use proceeds for beautification of the City of Novato.

Cary-St. Gaudens Nuptials In Blessed Sacrament Church

Maurice St. Gaudens gave his daughter, Deanna, in marriage to Randolph L. Cary of San Anselmo in the double ring ceremony performed at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia at 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Deanna's parents, the Maurice St. Gaudens Jr., live in San Rafael. The Rev. John Prindeville performed the ceremony in which the bride wore a full length gown of white lace and white nylon net with a fingertip veil.

Mrs. Rolf Schuette of Berkeley wore a full length gown of turquoise blue crepe as matron of honor. Bridesmaids Pamela Cary, of San Anselmo, sister of the bridegroom, Judy Evans of San Rafael and Lynn Beesley of Sacramento, cousin of the bride, were similarly dressed.

Ringbearer was Michael Fitzgerald of San Francisco.

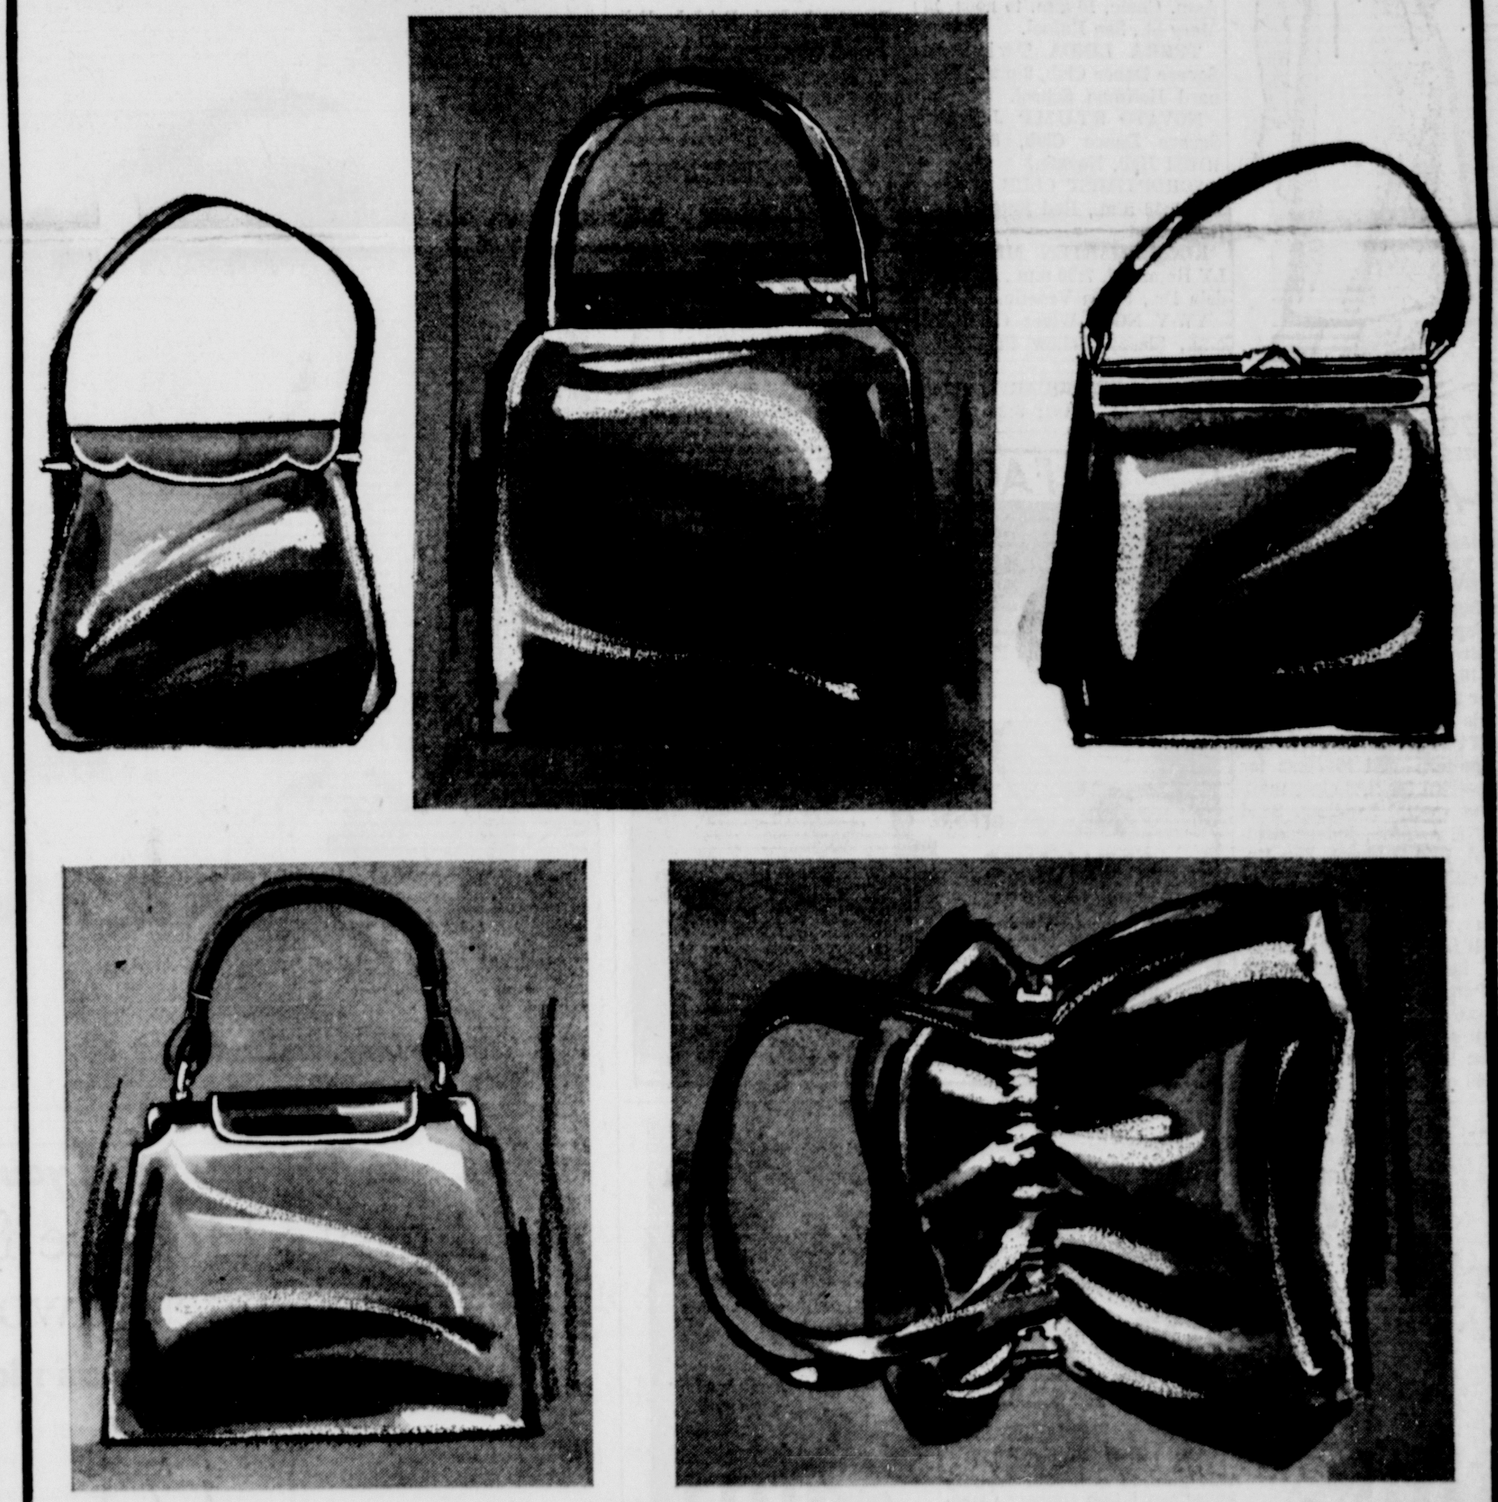

Rolf Schutte of Berkeley acted as best man and ushering were Richard St. Gaudens of San Rafael, brother of the bride; Robert Cary of San Anselmo, brother of the bridegroom; Barry Maynard and Gary Westover, both of San Rafael.

A reception at the Rafael Racquet Club in San Rafael followed the ceremony.

The bride is the sister of Mark St. Gaudens of San Rafael and the granddaughter of Mrs. Maurice St. Gaudens of San Rafael and the late Mr. St. Gaudens. She was graduated from San Rafael High School and Zweegman School for Medical secretaries. She also attended San Francisco State College and College of Marin.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Norman Cary of San Anselmo and the late Mr. Cary, and the grandson of Robert Paulus of San Francisco. He was graduated from San Rafael Military Academy and attended College of Marin. He is employed with Hills Brothers' Coffee, Inc.

Judith Fleming Is Bride In Rite At Chapel Of Grace

Chapel of Grace, Grace Cathedral in San Francisco, was the setting for the wedding of Judith Fleming of Belvedere and Walter William Braznell Jr.of San Francisco at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Dean Julian Bartlett performed the ceremony in which Judith was escorted to the altar by her father, Thomas Fleming Jr. of Belvedere. She is the daughter of Mrs. John Willard Saunders of Bronxville, N.Y.

The bride wore a full length gown of white silk linen trimmed in Swiss embroidery with court train. Her cousin, Margaret Louise Rhodes of Pasadena, was maid of honor wearing a full length sheath dress of blue nub linen with lace overblouse. Bridesmaids Valerie Slasar of Los Angeles, Penelope Rearwin of San Francisco and Ann Nelson of Berkeley were similarily dressed.

Best man was Klaus Brinkmann of Port Washington, N.Y. and ushering were Thomas Fleming III of Belvedere, brother of the bride, Phillip N. Robinson and Robert L. Hogan, both of San Francisco.

A reception was held at the Town and Country Club in San Francisco following the wedding.

The bride attended Katherine Delmar Burke School in San Francisco and Northwestern University. She was graduated from University of California last year where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She was a member of the Spinsters and made her debut in 1960 at Valley Hunt Club in Pasadena.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Braznell of Manhasset, Long Island, N.Y. and the brother of Mrs. Bradford Ficken of Doylestown, Pa. and Mrs. Charles Carlin of Dallas, Tex.

Bill was graduated from University of Missouri where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Judith is the sister of Louise Fairfax Fleming and Lyde Elizabeth Fleming of Belvedere and the granddaughter of Mrs. Edward Bosqui of San Francisco and Mrs. Thomas Fleming of Pasadena.

After the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

Housework The Hard Way Can Be Better For Your Figure

By MARGERY McELHENY

Those ancient household devices such as the clothesline, the rug beater and butter churner didn't add to your storehouse of available energy, but they helped shed unwanted pounds. And half of American housewives are overweight, according to studies.

If you drive 2½ miles to the store instead of walking, you'll use 97 calories, compared with 210 for a walk.

AND IF YOU USE modern home laundry appliances, you may expend an average of 21 calories to do a load of wash. But if you used the equipment of the 1900's, says an equipment maker, you would use 272 calories for the operation — from soaking clothes through the hand-operated wringer phase.

As for electric floor waxers and vacuum cleaners, they require only a small number of the calories needed to wax the floor by hand and beat the rug hung across the clothesline.

The type of house can make a difference, too. An hour of walking up and down stairs will consume 414 calories compared with 101 calories for walking around for an hour on one level.

The way work areas are laid out in the house makes a difference. You'll take twice as many steps when your laundry equipment is located in the basement than if it is on the main floor of the home.

MECHANIZATION AT work may affect calorie expenditure, too. Using an electric typewriter requires 15 fewer calories an hour than a manual machine. In 10 weeks these calories add up to an extra pound of body weight, assuming that exercise and eating habits stay the same.

In addition to technology's energy savers, social life can affect the figure, too — in more ways than just overeating.

If you sit at a party for three hours, you may burn up 275 calories. But if you do the frug, watusi or hully gully for one of those hours, you'll spend 400 calories.

Women To Hear Education Talk

"Something New in Teaching" will be the subject of San Francisco Theological student Rose Valencia's talk to the women of the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael Thursday at Canoles Hall.

Miss Valencia, who was born in Manila, P. I., is completing work for her master's degree in Christian Education and expects to be involved in a training project for several churches on her return to the Philippines.

Mrs. H. L. Anderson's Circle will be hostesses at the noon luncheon.

John Novak To Be Installed Hill School P-TA President

John Novak of Novato, general contractor and builder, will be installed as president of the Hill Junior High School Parent-Teacher Assn. tomorrow at 8 p.m. Novak will be the first man to serve as president of the junior high school P-TA.

The new president, who is the father of John and Jeffrey Novak, was graduated from the University of Texas and during World War II served as a Navy pilot. His special hobbies are hunting and fishing.

Novak is a member of the Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato, and he is also a member of the National Assn. of Homebuilders, the Rotary and the Greater Novato Chamber of Commerce, where he has served on the board of directors for three years.

Other officers are Mrs. Wallace Wick, first vice president; Leigh Metteer, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Thompson, secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Henerlau, treasurer; Joseph Orth, auditor, and Mrs. George Pelmear, historian.

Featured at the P-TA meeting tomorrow night will be student exhibits of art, woodworking and homemaking. Giving demonstrations will be the girls tumbling class and the science class.

The annual turkey dinner of the P-TA was attended by 350 persons, with $100 of the proceeds to be awarded to a Novato High School student for a scholarship.

Open Meeting Law Needs Bolstering, Not Watering

An Assembly bill (AB 946) by Milton Marks (R-San Francisco) to close loopholes in the Brown Act, cleared an Assembly committee last week.

But the battle is only beginning.

Forces which seek more closed meetings are pushing for several amendments. Those amendments, if incorporated in the bill, would riddle the anti-secrecy law with holes.

Assemblyman Marks, who is leading the fight for the "public's right to to know," may have a battle on his hands on the Assembly floor a few weeks from now.

Among the several "amendments" proposed, the most objectionable ones are these:

1. Committees and subcommittees of a local legislative body (city council, for example) must meet in public, only if they constitute a quorum of the whole body. In other words, two and three-man committees, if they do not constitute a quorum, could meet in secret.

Legislative bodies, saddled with an increasing amount of business, must necessarily assign duties to committees. If such committees could meet in secret, many of the city's important decisions could be made behind closed doors. Public sessions of the whole body could then become a mere rubber stamp of decisions reached in secret.

2. Permit closed sessions to discuss property acquisitions because public airing would raise property values.

Sounds good, but this would unquestionably open up abuses. Who knows what decisions and commitments could be made behind doors closed, ostensibly to discuss a building or a strip of land "because we might acquire it at some future date"?

And what's to prevent members of the public body from leaking inside information to a friend, while the public at large is kept in the dark?

3. Permit the local body to consult in secret with its attorney on matters relating "to pending, proposed or anticipated litigation to which the local agency is or may be a party."

This is the worst of all. It is practically all-encompassing.

A crack in the sidewalk, a leaky roof in city hall, or an existing fire hazard could all lead to future litigation.

If public officials wanted to discuss something in secret, this would be the perfect loophole to get around the Brown Act.

Lest we be misunderstood, we do not contend that elected officials seek devious methods to meet in secret. On the contrary, a vast majority of our public officials act in the best public interest.

Even most of those who would close meetings to discuss land purchase are motivated by the desire to save the public's money.

But the same law that is "aimed" for the public's good can be turned around by the unscrupulous to shield a situation that is dishonest.

We contend that the slight inconvenience of keeping all meetings open (except those now exempted by the Brown Act) is more than justified if that would spare a community from being victimized by shady operators working in smoke-filled rooms behind closed doors.

We back the passage of AB 946. We feel the open-meeting law should be strengthened, not watered down.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Insurance Rules, Not Politics Should Govern State Disability

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The unfortunate mess in which the state's disability insurance program finds itself at the present time, facing a cash deficit of $22 million by the end of this month, points up primarily the need for separating operations of this type from politics.

For a good many years, the disability fund's income exceeded benefit payments, and a huge surplus developed.

RATHER THAN store the money away for emergencies, or reduce the premiums paid by the workers of the state, the Legislature at the urging of union labor lobbyists embarked on a program of increasing the benefits paid out of the fund.

Obviously, the retention of huge sums of money, above and beyond anticipated need, is not good business, even in an insurance program. So the drive by union labor to get rid of the money through giving it back in benefits to workers found considerable favor with legislators, most of whom woo union labor votes.

The program, however, was undertaken apparently without use of sound actuarial knowledge involving the future of the fund. The fund now is "broke," and to keep it from probable elimination altogether, it has been necessary to eliminate the hospital benefits.

WHETHER THE fund can be brought back to operation on insurance principles—that is, not to pay out more than it takes in — remains to be seen.

It was some four years ago that the disability fund situation was brought to public attention by Irving Perluss, then director of the State Department of Employment, which administers the program.

Perluss, now a judge, claimed at the time that if the state had all of the disability business in the state, the fund would have been in fair shape. Perluss claimed that private insurance carriers skimmed off all the cream, and left the state with the bad risks.

SOME CORRECTION was made when the department adopted rules requiring some acceptance of the worse risks by the private concerns.

During all the argument this session, the fact that there remains in the unemployment insurance fund approximately $245 million which could be construed as belonging to disability, has not been brought out.

The disability fund secured $70 million from unemployment insurance money, out of funds contributed by workers before disability was effected.

However, the Legislature put a stop to taking any additional monies out of the unemployment insurance fund to bolster the disability program. The present Legislature could, of course, revoke this stopper, but it would be only a stopgap.

SO IT LOOKS like the Legislature and administration will be forced to get disability payments on an actuarial basis, and forget politics in the operation of the disability insurance program.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Personal Welfare Touch Is Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is incredible to read of the problems of Welfare; the need of the poor is a matter for each individual to face and remedy, and only by personal touch can each case be solved.

When I look at the list of the many churches in our County . . . I fail to understand still more that so few have a regular program to help those in need . . .

Is there, in all San Rafael, a place where a hungry person can get a plate of soup—a shelter where some stranded family or individual can find a bed for the night? A free clinic where our sick can be taken care of, free? And a friendly hand and ear willing to comfort the lonely? . . .

I have never felt as sorry as I do this minute, which finds me crippled and old! I am sure that I could take upon myself to organize some system . . .

I challenge right here, everyone who feels that their hearts are in the right place, to start finding poor families (some of them are too proud to beg), and without publicity report them to a central committee, which can be organized especially for it, then, following up the case; many young might find the way to be kind and interested. It would give them something to occupy themselves and keep them out of mischief, etc. . . .

Investigations Held A Help For Synanon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to congratulate Mrs. Ruth Lockhart and Assemblyman Geo. A. Wilson for their interest in investigating the Synanon Foundation. If more citizens would follow their example, there would be thousands of new Synanon supporters and sponsors.

I urge any citizen, particularly those who feel strongly either pro or con, to investigate this matter by visiting any Synanon facility, and seeing first-hand exactly what is taking place and what has been accomplished.

It would be pretty safe to guess that not only has Mrs. Lockhart never been in a Synanon house, but that she would never dream of doing so....

Why Mrs. Lockhart objects to the fact that certain private sponsors donate funds and also underwrite the purchase of real property for the Synanon Foundation to house Synanon residents is a mystery to me. I wonder if she also condemns those who sponsor the Heart Fund, Cancer Society and similar organizations....

Fortunately, there are many who have already investigated this organization, such as Senator Thomas J. Dodd, chairman of the Senate Subcommittee to Investigate Juvenile Delinquency, who, in his report to Congress, described Synanon as a "miracle on the beach," and a "study in heroism"; Dr. Lewis Yablonsky, who moved into Synanon in order to accurately gather facts for his new book, "Synanon: The Tunnel Back"; Nevada State Prison Warden Jack Fogliana; Marshall S. Cherkas, M. D., assistant consultant, L. A. County Dept. of Mental Health, and many others.

I, for one, do not oppose the organization that is successfully removing a destructive element from our society.

Synanon Opponents Urged To See House

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I'll never forget when "Punch" died. He was my dog when I was a boy. . . . I'll never forget his suffering as he writhed under the pain of a dog-poisoner's strychnine. He didn't deserve such a cruel death by the hand of one who didn't even know him. Does a dog-poisoner know the suffering he causes? Does he get a satisfaction out of other's suffering?

Somehow it all came back to me when I read the recent letters . . . regarding Synanon.

I phoned one of the ladies asking if she had ever been out to the Marshall Synanon House. She had not. Her defense was in that old cliche, "You don't have to get into the snake pit — — —."

I challenge anyone to accept the standing invitation to go out and visit with them, to have coffee and conversation and see for themselves the wonderful work that is being done out there at Marshall in the Synanon House. The basis of that educational program is love and truth. Those young people are an inspiration to anyone who is interested in seeing people born again into a meaningful, worthwhile, responsible life.

As I looked down the long hall in the old Marconi building, I said to my wife in deepest reverence, "If Jesus should come out of one of those doors, you might say that He was at home."

How much better if people had facts based on their first-hand knowledge and experience before they formed opinions, rather than just forming them from hearsay. How much better this world could be if love based upon knowledge would take the place of hate based upon ignorance.

Electorate Can Help In Schools

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Size of a school district need not limit local influence. When I was P-TA president of a very old, small, unimportant K-4 school in New York City (P.S. 23, Queens), we parents wanted a lunchroom and improved heating and painting. We had direct correspondence and personal contact with the superintendent in charge. He was helpful and considerate, and although we didn't get our lunchroom, we did get heat and fresh paint.

If New York City could do it, how much more easily could the Tamalpais Unified School District do it! Care and responsibility on the part of the electorate regardless of size are what matter.

Even Few People Can Make Mess

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In answer to Mrs. Melrose's letter of the 25, I have this to say. If Mrs. Melrose likes people so much, let her go to Los Angeles, or Chicago, or New York and see all the nice things that large numbers of people can do, things like polluting the air and littering the roads.

As a matter of fact, she wouldn't ever have to go out of the county to see these things. All she has to do is take a drive along U.S. 101. I'm sure she will be disgusted by the things that the "small" number of people in Marin can do let alone a population twice this large.

U.S. Trade With Red Nations Should Serve Aims Of Freedom

CHICAGO—We ought to stop, look both ways, and listen before we embark on any indiscriminate trade and credit policy with the Communist regimes in Eastern Europe.

THIS IS THE nearly unanimous judgment of the German, French, British and U. S. specialists on East-West relations who have been meeting under the aegis of the Foundation for Foreign Affairs in Chicago.

Moscow's once iron rule of its Eastern European satellites is being shaken loose. There have been significant changes in much of Eastern Europe which should be welcome and, as far as possible, encouraged by the West.

But there are two factors which should give us some pause.

The peoples of Eastern Europe still remain the captives of the Communist regimes although their Communist governments are less the captives of the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, nothing which the West has done has contributed appreciably to what has happened. The growing independence of the Communist satellites has been due (1) to the mounting nationalist pressure of Eastern European public opinion and (2) to Moscow's need for support because of the rift with Red China.

THERE IS REAL danger that indiscriminate trade with the Eastern European regimes, such as the recent export licenses to U. S. firms to build chemical factories, tightens the grip of the Communist regimes and does nothing to improve the freedom of their peoples.

This is why Baron von Guttenberg, a member of the West German parliament, struck this note of warning at the Chicago conference:

"The only instruments we have to exploit the cracks and stresses are economic. Their employment necessarily implies our entering into at least temporary partnership with some of the Communist governments of these lands. They imply a Western contribution to the stability of these regimes. Is there not now a growing bitterness among the people of Romania, for example, when they see their hated rulers received in Paris and Washington?"

Christopher Emmett of the American Council on Germany spoke a widely held view when he said: "The bulk of Eastern Europe's trade is with the Communist countries and nearly half is with the Soviet Union. Hence, any strengthening of productive facilities, especially in scarce items, bolsters the whole bloc, including the military and cold war potential. We should use the power inherent in granting or withholding U. S. aid and credits to push for further political progress rather than to ease present economic difficulties and thus stabilize things as they are."

The East-West specialists at the Chicago conference did not oppose wider cultural exchanges with the Eastern European countries and careful extension of normal commercial trade, especially in consumer goods. They favored both. But most of them felt that aid and credits ought to be related to, even conditional upon, the willingness of these governments to relax internal police-state rule.

THERE ARE plenty of available tests. Will they grant amnesty to the many political prisoners still being held? Will they permit the entry of foreign books, magazines and newspapers to the level permitted in Poland in 1957? Will they cease aiding Castro and training Communist agents to promote subversion in Latin America?

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Record War Chest Is Sought By GOP

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — House Republican campaign leaders are setting a record-breaking goal for themselves—a $2 million fund for next year's momentous congressional elections.

This target is $500,000 more than was raised and spent by the House GOP Campaign Committee in 1964, and $250,000 above the previous high in 1954.

Two significant backstage developments are the basis for the decision to shoot for a record-setting $2 million campaign chest:

THE EXTRAORDINARY $150,000 response to an emergency appeal by Rep. Bob Wilson, Calif., chairman of the campaign committee. In a letter to party contributors, he had asked for immediate help to enable his group to function effectively this year.

Private surveys in marginal districts (where the incumbent was elected by less than 5 per cent) which have convinced Republican leaders they have a good chance of recapturing from 20 to 40 seats lost in last year's Democratic landslide.

Strongly being stressed is that 1966 is an off-election year, and there is a long record of the "ins" losing seats in such contests: 1938, when the Democrats lost heavily following President Franklin D. Roosevelt's historic 1936 reelection; 1954, when the Republicans lost control of the House they had won when President Dwight D. Eisenhower swept to victory two years earlier.

REP. ADAM Clayton Powell, D-N. Y., chairman of the House committee handling President Lyndon B. Johnson's multi-billion-dollar national and regional anti-poverty programs, is launching one in his own behalf.

He wants to pay off the $267,000 judgment against him in a long-battled slander suit.

This sizable assessment is to be raised by a series of $50-a-plate dinners in a number of big cities. Sponsoring these fund-raising affairs are the "Friends of Powell," of which Lionel Hampton, well-known orchestra leader, is honorary chairman.

Hundreds of invitations over Hampton's signature have gone out to labor leaders, educational authorities, politicos and others with a direct interest in legislation pending before Powell's influential labor and education committee.

IT'S A SAFE BET that many $50 tickets will be sold to prominent buyers who won't show up at the dinner.

Until he pays the judgment, he has to stay out of New York under threat of a contempt edict.

The Internal Revenue Service has been asked by "Friends of Powell" for a ruling on whether the money collected for him will be taxed. This finding is awaited with keenest interest by politicos of both parties.

THE CONTEMPT decree is barring Powell from functioning in his other role as pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, in Manhattan. But he is keeping in practice preaching in other churches.

Officialdom Catches Blunt Blast For Flowery Tortures Of English

WE, THE PEOPLE, did not elect you, the government, to tamper with our language. You can raise the taxes and you can play with our laws, but you have no right to juggle English.

Who said you could call a state prison a "correctional facility"? Who gave you the right to call welfare "social service"? Who says books are "instructional materials"?

Do children go to school to attend classes? Not any more, they don't. They "participate in enrichment programs."

Now just what in Mr. Samuel H. Hill does that mean?

Heifer dust!

SPEAKING OF calling a spade a handled implement designed for turning earth and other related uses, 10 will get you one that the Marin County Board of Supervisors will try to come up with another name for a jail prior to the June 8 Civic Center bond election.

Board members are sensitive about the fact that the county jail will be part of the Hall of Justice addition. They do not have any idea of the promotional angle they are missing.

Want to live in a building designed by Frank Lloyd Wright? Who wouldn't? There is enough status in that for a reporter, even.

All you have to do is vote for the Civic Center bonds, wait two years until the addition is completed and then go out on a binge and get yourself booked for drunkenness.

Man, you're a resident of a Frank Lloyd Wright building, for 30 days, maybe.

Marin will be the only county offering two rights for a wrong — constitutional rights and Frank Lloyd Wright's jail. Excuse me, I mean to say correctional facility.

POLITICAL NOTE: William Gnoss, county supervisor from the Fifth (Novato) District for 11 years, will seek re-election for a four-year term in 1966.

That's an exclusive, unless you already read it someplace else.

MARIN COUNTY supervisors on Aug. 5 paid $2 each to H. S. Chaffen and William Bickerstaff for killing bears. On Sept. 17 the board paid William Fraser $4 for two bear scalps and on Nov. 5, Vincent Siberty got $6 for killing three bears.

The year was 1861.

Louise Teather of Tiburon and Lucretia Little of Mill Valley, who like to delve into Marin's history, supplied these notes just to show how the county has changed.

County Agricultural Commissioner Richard Straw says it is impossible to find a wild bear in Marin now.

As for $2, you might find that all right, but it just is not as bountiful as it used to be.

So there you have it.

ART BUCHWALD

New House Office Building's Critics Don't Appreciate Art

WASHINGTON—Every once in a while I feel I should come to the defense of Congress. Our representatives, who are constantly saving us money, looking after our interests and keeping the peace, have been under fire because of a silly building in Washington which has just been built to house their new offices.

The Rayburn House Office Building was built to take care of 169 Congressmen and their staffs. It is modest in proportions and takes up only two city blocks. The architects, builders and congressmen managed to complete the entire thing for only $125 million, which in these days of high prices for marble and carpeting is a bargain.

ORIGINALLY the building was supposed to cost only $64 million, but unfortunately this price didn't include the plumbing and welcome mats, and although the estimate was more than doubled I see no reason why the American taxpayer should complain.

Architecturally, the building has been a great success and has been compared to some of the finest state penitentiaries in the country.

It has been called "Edifice Rex," "Forest Lawn East" and "The Seventh Blunder of the World" by some critics who don't know a good thing when they see it.

"ONLY MUSSOLINI could have built something like this," an architect told me when he saw it.

While it is beautiful from the outside, it is also functional from the inside. For example, although the building is only four stories high, 15 per cent of the building has been allocated for offices and hearing rooms, and the rest of the space has been set aside for hallways, staircases and parking space for 1,100 automobiles.

Eight of the nine rooms set aside for permanent committees are two stories high and seat as many as 130 people. There hasn't been one wasted inch of room in the entire building.

Each congressman has his own washroom and safe, but his suite of offices has been designed in such a way that if he wants to speak to his aid or staff he has to walk through his waiting room.

THIS GIVES the congressman ready access to his constituents, which is the way the architects planned it.

There is a 60-by-20 swimming pool, a 112-by-40-foot gym, five dining rooms, a cafeteria and a courtyard.

The art work has also been praised by many. One critic called it the greatest example of Bolshevik modern in this country.

Another said that students would come from all over the world to stare at the art work in amazement.

IN ANY CASE, the criticism of the Rayburn House Building has been unjustified. You can't build a $125 million office building without making a few mistakes, and if there was any hint that the building was a waste of taxpayers' money, Congress would certainly investigate it. Wouldn't they?

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

'Third Hand High' Play Avoid Side Issues When

You can learn to be a mediocre expert if you memorize rules for playing bridge.

If you want to be an expert's expert you have to learn the exceptions to the rules. The rule "third hand high" is typical.

Opening lead — ♡ 4

If East takes the ace of hearts (playing third hand high) and returns the 10, South covers with the queen.

CAN WIN

West can win with the king but cannot safely continue hearts up to South's J-7. South therefore has time to develop the diamonds and make his contract.

East should play the 10 of hearts at the first trick, breaking the "third hand high" rule. South wins with the jack of hearts and knocks out the ace of diamonds.

West leads a heart to the ace, and now the heart return gives West the rest of the suit, defeating the contract.

DEPENDS ON ACE

Switch the ace of diamonds into the East hand, and East would go back to the regular rule. East would play the ace of hearts at the first trick and return the 10 of hearts.

East would soon get in with the ace of diamonds and would lead his other heart through South. West would take the rest of the hearts, defeating the contract.

PROPER PLAY

East's proper play therefore depends on whether he or his partner is going to win a fast defensive trick.

If East has the side sure entry (usually an ace or king in a key suit), he should play third hand high—the ordinary rule.

If East has no fast entry he must hope that his partner has one; and then East should play middling instead of high from such a holding of A-J-x, A-10-x, or A-9-x of his partner's suit.

TOWN TO MEET MINUS MANAGER

But Brandow Leaves Series Of Notes On Salary Proposals, Other Matters

Corte Madera's Town Council will hold its first meeting without a town manager tonight, but the memory of Arthur H. Brandow Jr. will linger on in the form of a series of memoranda he wrote before moving to his new post as Belmont City Administrator.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall. Major item left behind by Brandow is a recommendation on salaries for town employees. He advised that the state personnel technicians be called in to make a study.

On fringe benefits, Brandow endorsed the idea of the Town Employees' association that women's working hours be cut from 40 to 37½ a week. He also agreed that the town should consider paying full cost of medical insurance, instead of half as now, and increase maximum sick leave from 60 to 90 days.

The council will take up again the question of garbage rates. A letter from Albert Bianchi, attorney for Mill Valley Garbage Co., claims the company would lose money if it agreed to the rates proposed by the council.

The council suggested $1.75 in flat areas, $2 in hill areas and $2.25 in special inaccessible hill areas. The company asks $2 for flat areas for one can pickup monthly charge, and $2.50 for all hill areas.

An ultimate southern boundary for the town will be proposed, with a suggestion that the City of Tiburon join in a resolution setting the boundary at the top of Alto Hill.

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce will request an $800 subsidy for next fiscal year. The council may take action on inclusion of Corte Madera in the Ross Valley flood control zone.

Romeo, Juliet Tryouts Slated For Festival

At least 35 "Romeos" and "Juliets" will be delivering their lines April 17 at the amphitheater of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

That is the day when directors of the Marin Shakespeare Festival hold first try-outs for the lead roles in the play, one of three scheduled for this summer.

Applications were sent in from many parts of the country. One came from Bristol, England.

Other plays scheduled for the 1965 festival are "As You Like It" and part one of "Henry IV."

HEADLANDS POSIE PLAN DRAWS FIRE

Edward S. Ross, curator of the California Academy off Science in San Francisco, has protested the proposal to plant wild flowers on the Marin Headlands.

Some weeks ago Peter H. Behr, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, suggested that the headlands be planted with wild flowers and asked the public works department and the county agricultural commissioner to look into it.

Ross, a resident of Mill Valley, wrote a protest letter to the public works department, saying the vegetation on the headlands now is much the same as it was when the first Europeans sailed into San Francisco Bay. He urged that it be preserved and no flowers, trees or anything else be planted here.

Artist Show Works In Corte Madera

Work by three California artists in a variety of media will be shown at the Showcase Gallery, 5607 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, from Sunday through May 15.

The exhibition will include oil paintings and relief miniatures by Janet Schrock Jones, paintings and monoprints by Burdette Morton and photographic abstractions by Fred Padula.

Women Voters League Sets School Candidates Night

The League of Women Voters of Southern Marin will sponsor a candidates' night at 8 p.m., April 13 at Park School Auditorium, Mill Valley.

Six candidates for Mill Valley School District board will be invited to speak eight minutes and given time for rebuttal. Their questions: "What are the problems now being considered by the school board for which you are a candidate? How would you seek to solve these problems in the light of your experience and philosophy of education?"

Candidates are Dr. William L. Clark and Mrs. Joyce Gross, incumbents, T. J. De Lasaux Jr., W. P. Everts Jr., Mrs. Carl Hepp and Galen H. Williams Jr.

These candidates will be asked to speak briefly following the Mill Valley candidates: Tamalpais High School District: W. B. Lewis, Gloria W. Melbostad, Edmond J. Thomas Jr., and Donald J. O'Leary; county board of education candidates Rev. Samuel L. Banks and Glen E. Robinson.

Missile Unit 'Outstanding'

Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, First Missile Battalion, 250th Artillery, commanded by Capt. George D. Schilling of 1225 Denlyn Street, Novato, has been named the outstanding unit in the California Army National Guard.

Announcing this today, Lt. Gen. Roderic L. Hill, state adjutant general, said the unit will receive the Eisenhower Trophy for 1964. The battery is based at Fort Scott, Presidio of San Francisco.

The trophy is awarded every year to the outstanding federally recognized Army National Guard unit in each state.

L. E. Castner of Sonoma is president of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board.

Moulin Rouge Theme Of Junior Dance

"Moulin Rouge" will be the theme of the Redwood High School Junior Prom to be held in the school gymnasium April 24 at 9 p.m.

The gym will be decorated to resemble a French nightclub of the late nineteenth century.

'North Of Hill' Map On Agenda

San Rafael city councilmen will try again Monday night to resolve confusion over a "north of the hill" subdivision may which conflicts with county plans for widening Lucas Valley Road.

The council meets at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Public works director Norris M. Rawles is scheduled to submit a report clarifying the issue, first heard by the council three weeks ago.

The county appealed the matter after it got approval from the city planning commission.

Also scheduled is an appeal by Fred S. Nagle on planning commission denial of plans for an apartment building at 124 Ross Street.

The council will call for bids on two budgeted street and sewer projects, a box culvert on Bret Harte Road and sanitary sewer on Summit Avenue.

Vets To Learn How To Revive Insurance

A meeting to explain how veterans may reinstate their national service life insurance will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael Recreation Center, 37 Union Street.

J. V. Burdick, county veterans service officer, in announcing the meeting noted that a new law reopens the insurance program to veterans who were eligible to apply between Oct. 8, 1940, and Jan. 1, 1957. When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

*SOURCE: "A Survey on the Origins of Home Buyers in Marin County," conducted by the Marin County Abstract and Title Company.

When a Family Buys A Home in Northern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest research* shows that 71.9% of home buyers in Northern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of almost 5 to 1 MORE than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	71.9
San Francisco	14.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Southern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?
Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.
This is a ratio of MORE THAN 2 to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

Pope Recites Conflict Of Jesus, Hebrews

ROME (AP)—Pope Paul VI called the gospel for passion "a grave and sad page because it narrates the conflict, the clash between Jesus and the Hebrew people."

He said in a Lenten service yesterday the Jews were "a people predestined to await the Messiah but who, just at the right moment, not only did not recognize him but fought him, abused him and finally killed him."

Chaplins Spurn Jobless Family

LONDON (AP) —Arriving in London Sunday night, Charlie Chaplin and his wife turned a cold shoulder on their eldest son, Michael, 18; his wife, 25-year-old actress Pay Johns, and their child.

Mrs. Chaplin told newsmen her son "should get a job and go to work."

It was learned last week that Michael's family is receiving $28 a week in national assistance, although the elder Chaplin is a multimillionaire.

TELEVISION REVIEW

MacArthur Film Skillfully Made

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Douglas MacArthur, who died a year ago, was the subject last night of an ABC-TV documentary that skilifully — even artfully — captured the largeness, the controversial nature, the drama of the general himself.

The one-hour David Wolper production, which also required an executive producer, a producer-director and an associate producer they do things big at Wolper), was uniquely timely because of the parallel of MacArthur's experience with the Chinese intervention in Korea and the current threat of the same in Viet Nam.

Such documentaries can, of course, just about skim the surface of a complex subject unless they are very daring which this wasn't, but last night's program served one of the best functions of television public affairs shows: it created enough interest so that the viewer wanted to go out and read more about the man observed.

In view of the recent Air Force Academy cheating scandals, and the furor over whether cadets should inform on one another, there was another sequence of unusual interest: concerning the time when there was an investigation of excessive hazing at West Point, and MacArthur, a severe victim of it, refused to inform, and was supported by his mother — and came out of the affair with respect from all involved.

The Wolper hour made another good cause for the buying of independently - made documentaries by the networks as it effectively employed knowing editing in tracing the general's career: his "boots and saddle soldiering," his "strongly personal flair" which brought him so much admiration from some and dislike from others.

There were some excellent clips, of battles old and not so old, and particularly of an informal meeting with President Roosevelt to discuss Pacific strategy in World War II. The final sequence was brilliantly emotional and fine: the general's words of his love for West Point as background for impressive shots of the academy.

On Saturday night, CBS-TV replaced Carol Burnett's hourlong "The Entertainers" series with a new weekly bundle from Britain entitled "Secret Agent," in which a professional spy, portrayed with tongue-in-cheek, cavorts like a James Bond protege — sort of 006½.

The new series is a bit of a cross between NBC-TV's "The Rogues" and "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." and star Patrick McGoohan of "Secret Agent," is rather funny with his wildly romatic wardrobe of jazzy hats and jackets.

The real trouble is that all these spoofs of James Bond-type romance, glamor and adventure have now become so numerous that they have become common, which defeats the original purpose.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: June Lockhart, formerly of "Lassie," appears on NBC-TV's Alfred Hichcock hour April 26 as a mail-order bride who had been a small-town librarian.

JFK Memorial Gets Assistance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. foundation has announced a $500,000 grant to the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The center is to be the only Washington memorial to the late president. Some $661,000 still must be raised by public subscription by June 30 if the center is to get a congressional appropriation of $15.5 million.

The foundation was named for the late president's brother, a Navy pilot killed on a World War II mission.

Royal Life Has Its Hazards, Rewards

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip says there are a lot of things he would like to do, including going to a pub or a local movie, but can't because of his role as husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth. II

"But on the other hand, I've got a lot of advantages which compensate for it," Philip told a British radio audience yesterday.

Folk Opera To Be Given At Tam High

Tamalpais High School's music department will present "The Tender Land," a three-act folk opera by Aaron Copland, Wednesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott Auditorium.

The opera is a story about a teen-ager on a farm in South Dakota during the depression, and her mother who is "caught up" between hopes of the younger and older generations.

Other players include Kim Schwarcz, Les Taylor, Carolyn Stewart, Bruce Thomson, Bob Meier, Janna MacDonald, Betty Basom and members of the school choir.

The folk opera is directed by Robert Greenwood, school music director. Choreography is directed by Mrs. R. S. Goldsmith, who did the dance numbers for "West Side Story." Dancers include Wendy Evans, Linda Hauser, Candy Soderstrom. Marcia Thurston, Howard Sexton, Mark Symmes, Mike Thomsett and Pete Thurston.

The orchestra, hand-picked by Greenwood from Tamalpais, will be supplemented by Craig Beeson of Redwood High School, Mike Wellen of San Rafael High and Marsha Lang of Terra Linda High School. Paul Oppenheim, Tamalpais graduate, will assist.

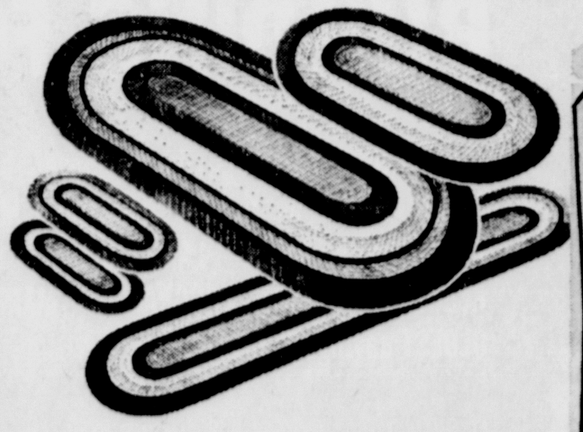

Windsors Fly Home On Queen's Airplane

PARIS (AP) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, reconciled with Britain's royal family after 29 years, have arrived in Paris from London on one of Queen Elizabeth's private planes.

They were met in Paris by a British Embassy limousine, which took them to their suburban home. The duke, the former King Edward VIII, recently underwent eye operations.

LIONS GIVE WAGON TO HOSPITAL

When the Mill Valley Lions Club donated this wagon to the pediatrics ward at Marin General Hospital, they brought joy into the hearts of many tiny patients, as can be seen by the look on the face of 2-year-old Judy Williams (in wagon). Looking on are head nurse Barbara Johnson, club president James Canepa and Linda Lesser, 7.

Resignations Due At County Board

It is the season of the year when teachers and school administrators start making plans for new or different jobs, and the Marin County Board of Education will have to take note of the season tonight.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the board room on the fourth floor of the Civic Center.

On the agenda are resignations of George Emmons, director of business services; Mrs. Donna Donaldson, teacher of the educatable mentally retarded at Alto School, and William Counter, teacher at Bayview School in San Quentin Prison.

Emmons has been with the county schools office for three years, the two teachers for one year only.

In a letter of resignation, Emmons said he plans to go back to school district work. Mrs. Donaldson reportedly plans to return to college for a special education certificate. Counter is leaving to become principal of a school in Napa.

Handicapped Plan On County Agenda

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission will hear a report on recreation for the handicapped at its meeting at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Room 413 of the Civic Center.

Also on the agenda are discussion of the Muir Beach Overlook and recreation on Bolinas Lagoon.

Fairfax School Pay Review Set

Fairfax School District trustees will review the salaries of Supt. Homer Sisk and the district's school principals and classified personnel when they meet tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. in Manor School.

The trustees will consider a decision on grade organization for the next school year and will discuss the services offered by the County Superintendent of Schools.
